ENGLISHMEN LIVE SLOW, BUT MOVE FAST, SAYS WILL

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Sept. 12.—So we are the nation that travels so fast, and think all the other countries are still in a covered wagon.

Well, some Englishmen a n n went 300 miles an hour in a plane and almost w e p t because it was f o g g y and misty and he was not able to open it up.

If you remember, o n e come over here and run an automobile faster than we can even wreck one, so when it comes to speed we are not exactly what you would call sitting on top of the world.

Englishmen live slow and move fast; we live fast and move slow.

Yours,
WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

What! Boys don't like cooking? Ask any George Washington Junior high teacher. As usual, pupils were allowed to make their choice as to which student club they wanted to be a member of during the coming term. Just the other day, eighty-two of the boys selected the boys' cooking club out of the 44 clubs that were offered.

Chilly weather of the past few days has resulted in heaters being fired in many homes if Pa New is able to judge by the smoke seen curling out of chimneys about the city.

Although there were reports last spring that the frost had killed all fruit there appears to be a crop of peaches in some parts of the county.

The blimp that was flying over the city yesterday apparently did not have to fly very high. It was so low at times that it appeared the passengers could almost step off onto the roofs of buildings.

Don't forget that your last chance to register to vote, in New Castle, is on Saturday.

Heard someone remark how shiny the Goodyear blimp was, yesterday. All dirigibles are painted with aluminum paint, in order that the sun striking the bag will be reflected instead of being absorbed.

There was a vast difference in the noise made by the Graf Zeppelin in comparison to that made by the baby blimp, yesterday.

Little Girl Who Shot Playmate Is Now In Hospital

No disposition of the case of Genevieve Rich, aged about 11 years, who was charged with manslaughter in connection with the shooting of her playmate, Olga Zernack, aged about seven years, will be made at the present term of court, owing to the fact that little Genevieve is now in the hospital, having undergone an operation for appendicitis.

The case did not come up before the grand jury this week, owing to the fact that it was certified into juvenile court on account of the child's age. She is now out on bail, and her case will likely be disposed of at the December term of court.

Eastern Standard Time For Election

According to announcement of the county commissioners the primary election will be conducted on Eastern Standard time. Ballots for the county districts will be distributed Friday and Saturday. Those in this city on Monday.

Weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning, furnished by U. S. Weather Observer B. F. Johnson at the New Castle Water Co. pump station follow: Maximum temperature, 74. Minimum temperature, 48. No precipitation. River stage, 3.5 feet and rising.

American Note In Naval Parley Sent To Britain

Gives U. S. Reply To Great Britain's Latest Cruiser Proposal

NEXT MOVE NOW UP TO BRITAIN

Essential Features Of U. S. Reply Worked Out By President Hoover

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A new American note in the naval negotiations with Great Britain was dispatched to London this morning.

It incorporates American objections to the cruiser question, which have been under study here for a week, and is understood to present counter-proposals for consideration by the MacDonald Government and the British Admiralty.

Up To Great Britain
In announcing that the note was sent early this morning, Secretary of State Stimson declined to divulge the contents, but stated that the next move is now up to Great Britain.

The essential features of the American reply were worked out by President Hoover, in consultation with the admirals of the navy, general board and state department representatives.

Despite the optimistic generalities voiced both in Washington and in London, it can be stated authoritatively that no cruiser agreement is yet in sight. Both sides have made concessions—material concessions—but there are still vital differences to reconcile, and the exchanges have reached the point where both President Hoover and Premier MacDonald have to fall back on the experts for guidance. The general board of the navy spent most of yesterday traveling back and forth between the White House and the Navy Department.

The capital noted with interest today a marked diminution of MacDonald's optimism, as contained in his public utterances. Addressing the League of Nations early this morning, the British Premier said he would be greatly surprised if an agreement was not reached in three weeks. Speaking at Durham on Tuesday, MacDonald was not so sanguine. "I will be optimistic to the end," he said, "which is certainly not in sight." (Continued On Page Five)

Governor May Save Youths

West Virginia Governor May Extend Clemency To Pair Convicted Of Slaying

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 12.—Decision of Governor William G. Conley on the fate of Millard F. Morrison, and Walter E. Willmet, who are scheduled to be hanged at Moundsville tomorrow night was expected sometime today.

It was pointed out at the governor's office that the governor had not yet received the report of Dr. L. V. Guthrie, alienist of the State Hospital at Huntington, who examined the two youthful slayers yesterday, and that until this report is received the governor will make no announcement of his decision on their appeal for executive clemency.

Dr. Guthrie's report was expected to reach the governor late today or tonight. Morrison and Willmet both of Elizabeth, N. J., were convicted of killing Frank Bowen, filling station proprietor of Lens Creek, W. Va.

Donora Man Is Victim Of Auto

(International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 12.—Struck by an automobile at a street intersection here, J. G. Finley, 60, of Donora, Pa., was fatally injured. He died while en route to a hospital. The driver of the car is held by police, awaiting the coroner's action.

NEWLY PAVED STRETCH OF PERRY HIGHWAY IS EXCELLENT ROADWAY

While the finishing work on the eight mile concrete stretch of the Perry Highway from the Jordan farm in Lawrence county, to the vicinity of Mercer is not all completed, the road is open for traffic and cars are being driven over it.

Part of the road has been open for some time, but the last concrete laid, that on the Lawrence county terminal, has only been ready for use for a short time.

This new road is one of the finest that this district offers. It has been laid out and graded in such a manner as to remove the steep grades and bad curves on the old dirt road, and a new bridge has been erected

Last Chance For City Residents To Register Occurs On Saturday

But one more day remains upon which voters of New Castle can register for the primary election on September 17, and that day is Saturday, Sept. 14. The voter who is not yet registered and fails to do so before 11 o'clock Saturday night, daylight savings time, will find himself disfranchised insofar as the primary is concerned.

Because of the personal registration law, it is necessary for residents of a third-class city to register. This does not apply to the boroughs or townships, they being registered when they are assessed. In the cities each voter must present himself before the registrars who sit in each polling place, and after presenting a county or state tax receipt issued within the two years last past, can register.

Registration Light
Registration in New Castle thus far is light, alarmingly so. It has been estimated that not more than 35 per cent of the voters eligible to register have done so, with two registration days already past.

This is an important election. Upon the result of it hinges the naming of men and women who will represent the two major parties in the November election. Because Lawrence county is preponderantly Republican, the primary will probably mean the naming of the officials who will serve for the next four years.

Officers to be named include the district attorney, sheriff, register and recorder and jury commissioners. These are for the county at large. In the city there are two councilmen to be elected, a city controller and four school directors. Other minor and (Continued On Page Two)

Pittsburgh Police Given Glass Diamond

Automobile Offender Leaves Glass Diamond Ring As Security At Police Station

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—Officers at the Homestead police station will be extra-cautious in the future about taking jewelry as security for the return of men apprehended for misconduct.

For yesterday the officers had a jeweler examine a fancy "diamond" ring, left as security by Howard B. Robinson who promised to return for a hearing on the violation of an automobile law, and the jeweler returned the verdict that if five cents would be added the "rock" would probably be worth the price of a chocolate sundae.

When the man was arrested he appeared to be prosperous, and told the officers he was a banker. Today the policemen have a theory he is engaged in other lines of business, and they are attempting to trace his automobile license number so he can be arrested.

Entered Half Million Swindle Knowing Full Well What Consequences Would Be

(International News Service)
NEW CASTLE, Wyo., Sept. 12.—While awaiting the arrival of a Federal warrant for his arrest today, Charles Delos Waggoner, 54, Telluride, Colo., banker, complacently told the details of his amazing $500,000 swindle of six New York banks to save the name of his home town and the life savings of his friends.

"I'm glad that it's all over because I have become weary of dodging the law," he quietly explained in his cell. "Last night, I got my first real sleep in ten days."

Admits His Crime
Waggoner, in discussing the sensational swindle, took full responsibility for the plot which persuaded six of New York's largest banks to advance him $500,000 on false telegraphic orders.

For many years president of one of the strongest small banks in his state, Waggoner found a few months ago that a crash was inevitable in Telluride due to the slump in the mining industry in his community. "I watched the resources of my institution slump more than half a (Continued On Page Two)

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Anxiety over the fate of the gravel ship Andaste, with her crew of twenty-five men, Chicago bound from Grand Haven, Mich., was heightened today after the boat had been missing for forty-eight hours.

The ship sailed Monday night at 9:30 and was due here Tuesday morning. It has not been heard from since its departure from Grand Haven. The craft carried 3,000 tons of gravel.

A violent storm was encountered by the ship Tuesday, according to meteorological records, and it is thought that she may have been forced to turn with the wind and drive far northward.

The missing ship has no wireless and could send no message of its distress.

District Leaders Join Move To Help Preserve Slippery Rock Beauty

Like a snowball rolling down a mountain side, the public indignation against the proposed plan to demolish the scenic beauty on the Slippery Rock creek is growing. Signatures are piling up in New Castle in protest against it and when the protests are spread over the county, thousands are expected to sign their names.

Two public officials have expressed themselves forcibly on the subject already. Senator George T. Weinmayer and Congressman J. Howard Swick. Both of them are flat footed against the granting of any charter rights on the Slippery Rock creek and are enlisted in the army opposed to demolishing the scenic beauty of that district.

Born on Slippery Rock.
"I was born near the Slippery Rock creek," said Senator Weinmayer, and lived out there until I was 25 years of age. As a boy and a young man I tramped over the district between Rose Point and Wierzbinski and I believe I know every creek and turn, every hill and valley along the Slippery Rock.

"As a county commissioner I was my duty along with the other members of the board to put a bridge over scenic Goose Neck Hollow, James McConnell, now deceased, asked us to construct the bridge that the beauty of the spot would not be disturbed, and I have always been glad that we followed his suggestion." ### Halverson Guilty Of Manslaughter

Second Member Of Minneapolis Gang Goes On Trial Today For Killing Patrolman

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Sept. 12.—Sam Bard, alleged murderer of State Highway Patrolman Russell T. Swanson, of Minneapolis, Minn., went on trial today in Erie county court. Fred Halverson, one of three famous women aviators is confined here for the crime, was found guilty of manslaughter last night after a jury had been out four hours. He refused to comment, following announcement of jury's verdict. The sentence has not yet been pronounced, but the law provides from 6 to 12 years for such a conviction.

Bard and Joe Inve, the third member of the trio, are to have separate trials, Inve's to follow Bard's. The district attorney hopes to secure a first degree murder conviction for Bard, the alleged trigger man. Swanson was shot to death April 19, while escorting the three men, all of Minneapolis, to a garage in North East, near here, where the brakes of their car were to be inspected. The shooting took place on the main street of the town.

Senate Clears Way For Final Tariff Battle

Legislative Channels Are Ready For Continuous Tariff Consideration

DEMOCRATIC LEADER TO EXPLAIN STAND

Coalition Effort To Inject Vane Case Given Surprising Defeat

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—After clearing its legislative channels for continuous consideration of the tariff, the senate settled down today to a three months battle over the administrative features and rates of the new bill.

Senator F. M. Simmons (D. of N. C.), the minority tariff leader, planned to deliver a Democratic " keynote" speech on the tariff this afternoon, explaining the opposition to the bill.

Veteran of many a tariff war, Simmons will outline the battle plans of the Democratic-Insurgent coalition, which seeks to eliminate Republican administration provisions and slash Republican protective rates.

Given Right Of Way
The tariff bill now has the right of way in the senate over all other legislative activities. The coalition effort to inject the Vane case into the special session, went down to defeat when the senate voted 41 to 34, to postpone action on the question of seating Senator-elect Vane (R. of Pa.) until after the tariff bill is passed. This may bring the Vane case up for a conclusion in late October but, at all events, it will be (Continued On Page Two)

Large Crowd At Flower Show Here

Hundreds Visit Beautiful Exhibition; Will Close This Evening

Hundreds of visitors passed through the Carnegie Auditorium Wednesday afternoon and evening where the ninth annual flower show of the Lawrence County Garden Club is being held. Attracted by previous successes of the Garden Club the crowd found that this year's show was not another edition of previous successes.

The display of flowers entered by the school children of the city is attracting much attention, while the women visitors seem to be attracted to the many table displays. "It is the most complete flower show we have visited this year," said one of the judges Wednesday evening, and the statement of the judge merely bears out the conviction of the hundreds who saw the show Wednesday.

This evening will close the flower show. Prizes will be awarded and the prize list this year is a most attractive one.

Arthur Mometer

He was a brave, courageous soul, no fear he had—quadruple. He faces the foe in other days with dignity and calm. He was a football hero too, a soldier he had been, and won a medal for his work, a shining one of tin. No fear he feared, on hoof or wheels, a hazy lad in track, and he went to see the doc, to have him pull a tooth. His wanted calm was quite forgot, his courage fled like rain, and fear, a gripping, crushing thing had seized his heart and brain. Him it was a trying time, what could our hero do, but sweat and quail before the doc, the weather's eighty-two.

PLAN COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN DURING OCTOBER

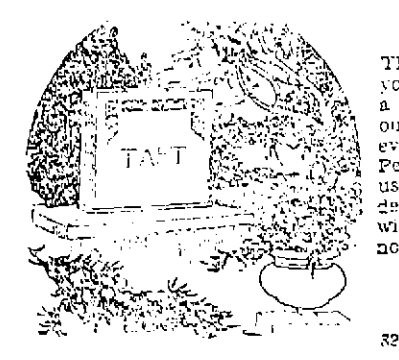

Another campaign is being used in the planning of the campaign for funds and the believes that the other savings which will be made will reduce the campaign costs by several thousand dollars.

The report of a special committee on division of the budget was received and will be used as a working plan for the eight affiliated agencies of the Community Chest, with some slight alterations.

The budgets of all affiliated agencies have been carefully scrutinized by the board and it is their belief that all expenses have been reduced to the minimum amount needed to keep these organizations functioning properly.

Those in attendance at the meeting last evening were: Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, James K. Leve, Dr. C. C. Green, Walter Graham, E. F. Butler, Eugene Thompson, Mrs. H. M. Kirk, Charles E. Allen, L. B. Round, George Lyon, Mrs. H. G. Maxwell, Marcus Pechtmeier, Loren Patterson and James W. Cole.

engineers that the Slippery Rock creek has not sufficient water for a hydro-electric plant on it, that it is not commercially practical to attempt such a thing. Because of this, and because I am firmly opposed to any attempt to destroy this beauty spot of Lawrence county, I am against the proposed charters for power rights. We must save this district for future generations to enjoy."

Everybody's Pleasure.

"Certainly I am opposed to the proposed charter grants on the Slippery Rock," said Dr. J. Howard Swick, congressman of this district. "While much of the scenic beauty of the Slippery Rock is within the boundaries of Lawrence county, yet appreciation of it is not confined to the county. It is a beautiful district as is the people of Lawrence county, and not only the people of Lawrence county but of all the counties in the western end of the state.

"We must save some of our beauty spots for the coming generation. While it has been necessary in the interests of industrial development, to destroy some of our natural beauty, yet in the case of the Slippery Rock I feel that it is not necessary, and sincerely trust that the citizens will modestly and vigorously that the Water Power and Resources board will refuse the application."

Liggett Gearing.

Thomas Liggett, former New Castle man, now of Pittsburgh, who first brought to light the fact that applications for charters had been made, is expected to be in New Castle within a day or so. For many years Mr. Liggett has been in the van of conservationists. Among the projects that he materially aided in putting over was the Cook Forest park plan.

He believes that scenic beauty should be saved wherever it is possible, and is in the fight to hold off the encroachment of power companies from a district they do not need.

ward and precinct officers are also to be filled.

To fail to register for this election is to default in the responsibilities of citizenship. There is some little annoyance connected with it. One must go to the registration table and be sworn, but to pass the opportunity to register is to refuse to take advantage of a privilege for which our ancestors fought.

Don't Forget It

If you are not registered yet, do so on Saturday, Sept. 14. There is a polling place near your home and the time required to qualify yourself for voting on September 17 takes but a few minutes. The polls open at eight o'clock and remain open until 11 a. m. They close at 12 noon, they reopen and are open until three p. m. Again at five o'clock they open and are open until 11 o'clock p. m.

This will be the last opportunity to register for the primary. The last opportunity to say by your vote who shall serve you for the next four years.

It is urged that every voter get out and register and see that his neighbors do not forget.

All investigations forces, however, are convinced that no legal action can be completed, even if the charges of fraudulent assessment are found to be true, before the primary election on Tuesday.

As this fact became evident, all quarters turned their attention to providing watchers and workers at all election booths to insure a fair election for all candidates concerned. The election association is planning to finance a close watch at the polls and has completed a fund to be used in demanding that every suspected ballot box be opened and a recount made.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Eliza Newell, he leaves the following children: John and Robert of New Castle; Clarence and Frank of Ambridge, Pa.; William of Youngstown, O.; and Mrs. Sara McConay of New Castle. He also leaves 10 grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Jennie Coffey of Canada.

PITTSBURGH HOPES FOR CLEAN PRIMARY

assessment lists of Allegheny county now include the district attorney's office and the grand jury, supporters of James F. Malone, major Charles H. Stone and James Richard W. Martin, all candidates for the nomination of the election frauds committee of the Allegheny County Bar association, the board of registration commissioners and the Allegheny County Elections association.

Probe Moves Slowly

All investigations forces, however, are convinced that no legal action can be completed, even if the charges of fraudulent assessment are found to be true, before the primary election on Tuesday.

As this fact became evident, all quarters turned their attention to providing watchers and workers at all election booths to insure a fair election for all candidates concerned. The election association is planning to finance a close watch at the polls and has completed a fund to be used in demanding that every suspected ballot box be opened and a recount made.

More than 50 persons were scheduled to make their appearance before the grand jury today. Among those is George Shad chief of the board for assessment and revision of taxes, who was questioned late yesterday, but was scheduled to be recalled today.

Baby Blimp In Local Air Circus

Planes Also Share In Program At Air Field On Wednesday Afternoon

Monoplanes and bi-planes and the Goodyear blimp "Defender" attracted a large crowd to the Bradford Flying Field on the Youngstown road Wednesday afternoon, when D. Roy Bradford, owner, staged an air circus and ox roasts.

Because a blimp had never been landed here before, perhaps the Defender took the major portion of the interest of the spectators. As the silver cigar shaped craft floated lazily over the city necks were craned skyward to see it, and at the field it was the center of an interested group until it left. Many people took advantage of the opportunity to ride in it, and the ideal flying condition of the air gave them a view of the city that was most unusual.

Joe Crane, the parachute jumper who has been here before, was present and thrilled the spectators with some jumps from planes in the air. Crane recently made a great showing at the air derby in Cleveland, Ohio.

The air circus and ox roasts was an endeavor upon the part of D. Roy Bradford to stimulate interest here in flying and the number who attended was a satisfaction.

An announcer system was installed at the field to aid in controlling the crowd and this feature proved to be of real worth. Charles A. Crowl did the announcing.

CAMP SMITH, Peekskill, N. Y., Aug. 17th.—I have shared the soldier's cigarette in pretty nearly every corner of the world, and I know how set in his ways an army man can get when it comes to knowing what smoke he likes. So frankly the idea that a two year old cigarette—even if it did have the name OLD GOLD—could win this test over three old time brands seemed unbelievable.

But the thing worked out. At Camp Smith, where I witnessed the test, OLD GOLD put the bee on 506 Yanks of the Old Seventh New York regiment.

The Old Seventh went OLD GOLD with 195 bull's-eyes as against 144 for the next brand, with the two other old timers rating scores of 81 and 86.

What's more, this concealed name test is as square as a regimental parade ground.

An urgent appeal to the registrars of the different election precincts of New Castle is made by the county commissioners to return the registration books not later than 9 o'clock, Monday morning.

There are 34 registrars in the city. They have had the registration books since the first registration day. Next Saturday will be the last registration day.

The primary election comes on Tuesday. It will be necessary for the county commissioners to begin the distribution of ballots to the different precincts on Monday morning.

AMERICAN NOTE IN NAVAL PARLEY SENT TO BRITAIN

until an end of failure compels us to say the problem is insoluble."

British Proposal

The latest British proposal which has been under study here for a week, would allow a British cruiser (tonnage of some 250,000) but contingent upon the United States sacrificing at least a third of the 8-inch gun cruisers which congress has ordered laid down during the next three years. Britain willing to permit this sacrifice tonnage to be made up in light 6-inch gun cruisers, which the navy general board considers totally unsuited to American needs, because of the long hauls between bases.

There the situation rests. Acceptance of the British proposals from any viewpoint would leave the American navy still some 50,000 tons of cruisers short of parity with the British navy, which would be offset only by the fact that the American navy would possess a very slight superiority over the British in vessels of the 10,000 ton, 6-inch gun type. The navy general board has advised against it.

Moreover, President Hoover has to conduct the negotiations with one eye on the senate. It will require a two-thirds vote of the senate to ratify any agreement, and no one in Washington believes the senate would approve any compact that does not provide parity acceptable to the general board.

All of President Hoover's advisers do not see eye to eye on the value of the British proposals and the nature of the American reply.

It was reported on good authority today that there have been some tart exchanges between Secretary of the Navy Adams and Under Secretary of State Joseph P. Cotton in the conferences this week, with Adams strongly backing up the views of his admirals.

A republic is a land in which those who delight in cleanliness won't let the others play in dirt.

Waggoner Calmly Admits Swindling Of New York Banks

Wanted To Save His Small Town Bank From Disgrace, Reasons For Rash Act
Readily Confesses To Swindling Big City Banks Of Over Half Million Dollars

(International News Service)
NEWCASTLE, Wyo., Sept. 12.—I thought the New York banks would not miss it."

The mad-cap financial scheme to make eastern banking interests pay for the losses sustained by his de-positors, was related Wednesday by C. D. Waggoner, small town president of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., who merely confessed to out-swart-ling New York banks for $500,000.

"I wanted to save my friends and depositors in the Telluride bank," he explained from the prison cell where he is awaiting removal to New York under federal charges. "Conditions in that former prosperous mining community were getting very bad. I was anxious that the good people should not lose their life's savings in the impending crash of the only bank in town—my bank."

Waggoner, a hard-looking man of 44, talked calmly.

The bottom had dropped out of things in Telluride. I was confronted with many difficulties. A desperate move was all I could think of. So I conceived the idea of getting money from the New York banks. I thought they would not miss it."

Waggoner indicated he would not light extradition.

He told authorities he was ready to go back to New York at once and would ask for an immediate trial.

INDIANA LIARS TRAIN

Last year the contest was won by

The judges decided that was the Memory Nets Chicago

Greek $300 Reward

(International News Service)
PORT WORTH, Sept. 12.—A reten-tive memory which could grope back over a period of two years and identify a negro man with whom he was not acquainted but had seen several times, has earned George Carres, Greek cafe employee, $300.

Carres once worked in Port Worth, and there he saw Tonola Moore, negro, now charged with the murder of George Turner, bicycle officer, Moore, after Turner was slain, was missing for 15 months.

Several days ago Carres, walking down the street in Chicago, saw Moore, and knew him at once. He advised Port Worth authorities, after having the negro jailed, and Moore was returned here to face the murder charge.

Carres came on the same train as Moore and got a $300 reward.

Studebaker PRESIDENT EIGHT sets New Stock Car Record in 1929 Pikes Peak Climb!

—Adds famous Penrose Trophy to 11 world and 23 international records

A strictly stock and fully equipped Studebaker President Eight, driven by Glen Shultz, set the fastest stock car time in history to win the most arduous hill climbing contest known to motoring—the Annual Penrose Trophy Race to the summit of Pikes Peak, 14,109 feet above sea level!

Already holding undisputed, more official stock car records for speed and endurance than all other makes of American cars combined, Studebaker now adds another triumph—in climbing Pikes Peak faster than any other stock car, regardless of power or price.

The Pikes Peak Climb was sanctioned, timed and checked by the American Automobile Association. A. A. A. officials followed the same procedure in selecting the winning stock model! President Eight as they did previously with the strictly stock President Eight which traveled 30,000 miles in 26,326 consecutive minutes. Picked at random from the Studebaker factory, The President was checked and certified as strictly stock before the race, and again after the run.

The President Eight's record conquest of Pikes Peak is further proof of eight-cylinder performance supremacy—just as eight-cylinder popularity has been proved by Studebaker's world leadership in the sale of eights! Why wait a year to own an eight when you can own the car of tomorrow today!

You can buy a duplicate of the Pikes Peak President from any Studebaker dealer. See it—drive it—own a Studebaker champion eight at a new, low One-Price price! And remember your car will be worth more a year from now—if it is an eight!

* High compression head, 6 to 1, and constant gear ratio, 4.68 to 1, were other of which is optional and available to any Studebaker purchaser.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

NO FUN FOR SOMEBODY

No sooner had Mrs. Walking-Stick introduced Peter to her uncle than she began to give her crackly chuckle. Her husband joined in.

"What's the joke?" demanded Uncle Praying Mantis. "Let me in on it, quickly." He glared at Peter.

"Ho, ho, hee, hee!" twittered the Walking-Sticks, and Mrs. Walking-Stick added:

"We call the boy friend although the first thing he did was to step on husband's head and nearly squash the breath out of him. What a time I had to make him take his foot off hubby!"

"Hm! That is a joke!" remarked Uncle Praying Mantis and burst out with another of his fierce "ha has."

"It's too bad I wasn't around to hug him. One hug of mine and he'd have taken himself off your husband's head in a hurry. Although what would have happened to him next I'll not tell you. Say, the boy looks fast and tasty!"

Peter moved several paces away from Uncle Praying Mantis. He didn't like the fellow at all, but Mrs. Walking-Stick insisted.

"Ho, ho, hee, hee! You always were such a joker, uncle!" Her husband—kinder hearted and thinking

"This bit of battery pleased Uncle Praying Mantis. Something flew past Peter—and landed beneath the stern on which Mr. and Mrs. Walking-Stick had been clinging.

FRANKLIN'S SWORD PUT ON EXHIBITION

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
PARIS, Sept. 12.—Cool sweet scented air in summer when the evening mists hang over a shining, shimmering city, is being offered to French residents who have observed the American system in the Paramount Cinema Palace on the Grand Boulevard. They are now building refrigerated apartments, and more than this, Madame and Monsieur may have their favorite perfume with a fresh pine forest scent, salty sea air or any one of the thousand and one brands put up by the famous French perfumers.

Poor Richard's famous sword which has lain forgotten for many years, has recently been brought to light in Paris and put on exhibition at the Galerie Jean Charpentier, together with a number of other Revolutionary and Pre-Revolutionary relics, loaned by the nation museum of France.

The blade bears the inscription: "Sword which was carried by Benjamin Franklin in the battles fought in America for the cause of Liberty. It gave it later to his friend, P. J. O. Cabanis."

It is of full military length, with a triangular blade of the finest Sheffield steel and, aside from the engraved motto and the elaborately finished hilt and guard which were the gift of Louis XVI, it might have been the sword of any officers of the continental army.

Monsieur Giroude, Curator of the Museum of Bicarmont, believes that Franklin rarely wore this sword at the court of Louis XVI where he was obliged to pose as "Poor Richard," but at the Court of St. James he wore it constantly, as well as after he returned to America.

Actors of the French national theatre, the celebrated Comedie Francaise, which so many artists have left in fury, including the famous Sarah Bernhardt, can now appear in talks, but only under the following conditions:

1. They must not appear in a film of any of the plays in the repertoire of the theatre itself.
2. Not more than one of them may appear in any one talk.
3. They must not sign any long term contracts with the talkie companies.
4. They will consider only high terms for their services.

A movie artist moreover, is by no means an employee, according to the 11th chamber of the Paris Tribunal which has just decided that the family of Suzanne Girard, killed in an automobile accident many years ago, will not be subject to the law on workmen's accidents.

The judge declared that an artist does not content himself with executing a certain piece of work but brings to it an effort at creation. But substituting one artist for another the interpretation of a certain role may be entirely modified. This is not true in the case of an electrician, machinist or even furniture maker.

The decision which has taken nine years of deliberation will be useful in future decisions.

(International News Service)
TOKYO, Sept. 12.—Plans for sending a number of Japanese students to the United States for study under the Bancroft Memorial fund have been materializing and the committee in charge is about to name two young Japanese who will leave in time to begin their work this fall. It is announced. The fund was created by the brother and sister of the late Edgar A. Bancroft, American ambassador to Japan who died while in the field of duty here.

Mr. Bancroft came to Japan at a time when feeling against the United States was rather high because of the recent passage of the immigration act. He soon became convinced that the only way relations between the two countries could be improved was to establish a stronger personal bond between their respective peoples.

Because it was not feasible to have many American students come to Japan he thought that Japanese young men should go to the United States. His death cut short his plans along this line but his relatives joined in making the fund possible because they knew it was according to his wishes.

Japanese who go to America under the Bancroft fund will be encouraged to enter small American colleges where they will be the only Japanese. The first of these students who will leave this summer may go to Knox college at Galesburg, Ill., because that was Ambassador Bancroft's alma mater.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—Mind the cops! warns an official note reminding air pilots that there are now French sendamies of the air operating over French territory and waters. They are provided with smoke rockets to be used as signals to other planes which are disobeying traffic regulations.

When a pilot sees one of these signals, he must follow the police plane to an aerodrome or else come down to land as soon as possible.

Night Patrol Stops Dozing Motorists

(International News Service)
BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Sept. 12.—Kern county traffic officers have a new job—keeping sleepy motorists from dozing at the wheel.

The night patrol functions along the "straightaway" a 40 mile stretch on the Ridge route of the state highway out of Bakersfield. There is only one bend in the entire distance.

Traffic is heavy particularly at night and because of the large number of accidents the piece of road has been termed the "Doze Stretch."

The officers say that drivers lulled by the monotony of the motors and the flashing glare of passing cars in the evening become sort of hypnotized and nap at the wheel often with disastrous results.

To Count All Who Quit Farm In 1930 Census

Government Will Find How Many Ruralites Have Trekped To City

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The first comprehensive survey of migration from American farms to the industrial and business life of cities will be made in the taking of the 1930 census. The census bureau adopts a procedure of its advisory committee of experts.

The purpose of the examination would be to determine the number of persons who have left the farm within the past year.

This information is expected by statistical experts not only to give an exact answer to the question of migration, but to pave the way for supplemental examination to determine accurately the causes. And this information, it is declared, will provide opportunity for an answer to the question, "How are you going to keep them down on the farm?"

Although census experts know that there has been a steady drift from the farm in the last decade, as revealed by the difference between rural and city population, estimates of the marked change in the life of the nation have varied greatly.

The census bureau also is considering many other questions designed to give an intimate picture of the changes in the social life of the nation. Some proposals have already been rejected.

Among the suggestions advanced are questions concerning religious tongue of foreign-born. The latter family, rent paid, classification of affiliation, the number of rooms per salary workers and the mother tongue has been urged because the nationality of many people is not indicated by reporting of country birth.

To Aid Young Indians

Miss Mary Stewart

Lo, the poor young Indian is to receive help and encouragement in his efforts to be educated from Miss Mary Stewart, who has been appointed assistant director of education in the Indian bureau at Washington. Miss Stewart has been an educator and employment specialist, associated at one time with the department of labor.

Information concerning the living conditions of the people as a whole is eagerly sought by large life insurance companies and students of social conditions.

Practical difficulties are confronting the census officials in their efforts along this line. An expert for a life insurance company, which had attempted to make a survey of living conditions, reported that they had gotten 40 different definitions of a room. A proposal to limit this investigation to the congested areas of certain large cities is being considered.

Tong Wars Are Help To Insurance Business

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Tong wars, such as recently threw scares into New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities, have their influence upon business, according to a report issued by the Fidelity-Phoenix Fire Insurance company.

"The activities of the tongs is a factor in our business," the report said, "because of the practice of many Chinese, especially members of such organizations to ship back to China the bodies of their countrymen who have died on foreign soil."

"After a ceremonious funeral, a body is arranged for transport, and during the trip it is insured against loss under the marine form of insurance for the amount that has been contributed for embalming and other expenses by relatives and friends of the deceased."

Uniform Traffic Laws Would Save Many Lives

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Political interference, ticket fixing, the absence of compulsory inspection of automobiles and motor vehicle insurance legislation, antiquated and non-uniform traffic laws and general carelessness on the part of both motorists and pedestrians are the principal causes of the annual increase in traffic accidents.

This is the general consensus of opinion among safety council officials who replied to a recent questionnaire sent to all parts of the country as part of a national program for accident prevention by Fred W. Johnson, nationally known as father of the safety first movement.

"Ticket fixing" which permits a large number of both major and minor traffic law violators to go unpunished for dangerous driving practices, was held to be an important deterrent to the cause of traffic safety, particularly in the more populous centers, the survey disclosed.

Nearly all of the safety experts agreed that a national concentrated program of safety education in homes as well as in the schools, which is being conducted by organizations like the National Safety Council will assist materially in reducing the most common causes of traffic accidents—carelessness in walking and driving habits and ignorance of traffic rules and regulations.

Out of a total of slightly over one hundred answers to the safety questionnaire, more than 75 per cent agreed that such modern mechanical improvements as all-steel automobile bodies, non-shatterable windshields, and windows, properly regulated four-wheel brakes, and other modern safety factors aid materially in the reduction of deaths and injuries caused by collisions and reduce, to a smaller extent, accidents involving pedestrians.

A mid-western official held that there would be no appreciable reduction in traffic accidents until uniform laws and regulations are adopted and properly enforced.

"Political humbuggery" is one of the nation's greatest traffic evils, according to an official of one of the larger cities.

The recommendations revealed by the survey include: adoption of uniform drivers' license laws by all states; establishment of either a state constabulary to enforce traffic in the rural districts, or some similar organization whose officers are not paid on a piecework basis; the abolition of antiquated, worn-out cars through greater regulation of the used car market; the greater use of cars with unsmashable steel bodies; compulsory periodic inspection, and last but not least, greater regulation of the pedestrian.

Demountable Movies For Railway Tours

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—A miniature "demountable" motion picture theatre is the newest luxury provided for train travelers on vacation tours through the northwestern part of the United States and the Canadian Rockies this summer.

Railway tours leaving Chicago weekly under the auspices of the American Express are equipped with recreation cars for bridge and dancing. When the tourists tire of these occupations a small motion picture projector of the portable amateur type and a small screen are moved into position and the travellers are entertained with photoplays from a large library of pictures on the half-inch film in amateur motion picture equipment.

Although President Coolidge sometimes was shown motion pictures aboard his private car while he was travelling the new recreation cars are believed to be the first regular "in-limits theatres" ever to be mounted on a railroad car.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE PRESIDENT

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE

ARTICLE V

President, The Champion Of The Unorganized Majority—Organized Minorities Often Try To Put Legislation Through

In determining upon all his actions, the President has to remember that he is dealing with two different minds. One is the mind of the country, largely intent upon its own general affairs and, while not greatly interested in the Government, yet desirous of seeing it conducted in an orderly and dignified manner for the advancement of the public welfare. These also compose the mind which to have the country prosper and be opposed to unjust taxation and public extravagance. At the same time, they have a patriotic pride which moves them with so great a desire to see things well done that they are willing to pay for it. They gladly contribute their money to place the United States in the lead. In general, they represent the public opinion of the land.

But they are unorganized, formless, and inarticulate. Against a compact and well-defined minority they do not appear to be very effective. They are nevertheless the great power in our Government. I have constantly appealed to them and have seldom failed in enlisting their support. They are the out of last resort and their decisions are final.

Political Mind An Artificial One. They are, however, the indirect rather than the direct power. The immediate authority with which the President has to deal is vested in the political mind. In order to get things done, he has to work through that agency. Some of our Presidents have appeared to lack comprehension of the political mind. Although I have been associated with it for many years, I always found difficulty in understanding it. It is a strange mixture of vanity and timidity, of an obvious attitude at one time and a decision of grandeur at another, a confusion of the most selfish preference combined with the most sacrificing

Ex-President Coolidge, signing a bill. "The President has tended to become the champion of the people because he is solely responsible for his acts," states Mr. Coolidge in this article.

patriotism. The political mind is the product of men in public life who have been spoiled with praise and they have been spoiled with abuse. With time, of the most selfish preference combined with the most sacrificing these influences and maintain a vision and a judgment that is unimpaired. They are a great comfort to every President and of great service to their country. But they are not sufficient in number so that the public business can be transacted like a private business.

It is because in their hours of timidity the Congress becomes subservient to the importunities of organized minorities that the President comes more and more to stand as the champion of the rights of the whole country. Organizing such minorities has come to be a well-recognized industry at Washington. They are oftentimes led by persons of great ability, who display much skill in bringing their influences to bear on the Congress. They have ways of securing newspaper publicity, deluging Senators and Representatives with petitions, and overwhelming them with imprecations that are often times decisive in securing the passage of bills. While much of this legislation is not entirely bad, almost all of it is excessively expensive. If it were not for the rules of the House and the veto power of the President, within two years these activities would double the cost of the Government.

Party Spirit Weakening. Under our system the President is not only the head of the Government, but he is the head of his party. The last twenty years have witnessed a decline in party spirit and a distinct weakening in party loyalty. While an independent attitude on the part of the citizen is not without a certain public advantage, yet it is necessary under our form of government to have political parties. Unless someone is a partisan, no one can be an independent. The Congress is organized entirely in accordance with party policy. The parties appeal to the voters in behalf of their platforms. The people make their choice on those issues. Unless those who are elected on the same party platform associate themselves together to carry out its provisions, the election becomes a mockery. The independent voter who has joined with others in placing a party nominee in office finds his efforts were all in vain if the person he helps elect refuses or neglects to keep the platform pledges of his party.

Many occasions arise in the Congress when party lines are properly discarded, but if there is to be a responsible government proceeding in accordance with the express mandate of the people, and not merely at the whim of those who happen to be victorious at the polls, on all the larger and important issues there must be solidarity. It is the business of the President as party leader to do the best he can to see that the declared party platform purposes are translated into legislative and administrative action. Oftentimes I secured support from those without my party and had opposition from those within my party in attempting to keep my platform pledges. Such a condition is entirely anomalous.

Summer Months Hard on Stomach Sufferers

Quick, Natural Relief from Simple Herbal Compound

How much suffering a weak stomach can cause! Painful gas, bloating, sleeplessness, loss of weight—vigor. Bad enough at any time, but when exhausting summer heat is added, strength is drained from the sturdiest body.

But here is one of many thousands who found a way to relief: Mrs. Sarah A. Vose, of 24 S. Goodwin St., Kingston, Pa., says: "Five years I had been going down in health—couldn't sleep or eat, and could barely walk. Now at 74 years of age I do all my housework and laundry, and feel Tanlac has put many years ahead of me."

It's never too late to try Tanlac. So go to your druggist now and get a bottle. No mineral drugs—only Nature's own medicinal herbs, but its efficacy is so apparent that often only one bottle is needed to bring desired relief. Money back if it doesn't help.

Tanlac
52 MILLION BOTTLES USED

alous. It leaves the President as the sole repository of party responsibility. But it is one of the reasons that the Presidential office has grown in popular estimation and favor while the Congress has declined. The country feels that the President is willing to assume responsibility, while his party in the Congress is not. I never felt it was my duty to attempt to coerce Senators or Representatives, or to take reprisals. The people sent them to Washington. I felt I had discharged my duty when I had done the best I could with them. In this way I avoided almost entirely a personal opposition, which I think was of more value to the country than to attempt to prevail through arousing personal fear.

Under our system it ought to be remembered that the power to initiate policies has to be centralized somewhere. Unless the party leaders exercising it can depend on loyalty and organization support, the party in which it is reposed will become entirely ineffective. A party which is ineffective will soon be discarded. If a party is to endure as a serviceable instrument of government for the country, it must possess and display a healthy spirit of party loyalty. Such a manifestation in the Congress would do more than anything else to rehabilitate it in the esteem and confidence of the country.

President Has Become Champion Of The People

It is natural for man to seek power. It was because of this trait of human nature that the founders of our institutions provided a system of checks and balances. They placed all their public officers under constitutional limitations. They had the fear of the courts and were inclined to regard legislative bodies as the natural champions of their liberties. They were very apprehensive that the executive might seek to exercise arbitrary powers. Under our Constitution, such fears have seldom been well founded. The President has tended to become the champion of the people because he is held solely responsible for his acts, while in the Congress, where responsibility is divided, it has developed that there is much greater danger of arbitrary action.

It has therefore become increasingly imperative that the President should resist any encroachment upon his constitutional powers. One of the most important of these is the power of appointment. The Constitution provides that he shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint. A constant pressure is exerted by the Senators to make their own nominations, and the Congress is constantly proposing laws which undertake to deprive the President of the appointive power. Different departments and bureaus are frequently supporting measures that would make of them self-perpetuating bodies to which no appointments could be made that they did not originate. While I have always sought cooperation and advice, I have likewise resisted these efforts, sometimes by refusing to adopt recommendations and sometimes by the exercise of the veto power. One of the farm relief bills, and later a public health measure, had these clearly unconstitutional limitations on the power of appointment. In the defense of the rights and liberties of the people, it is necessary for the President to resist all encroachments upon his lawful authority.

All of these trials and encouragements come to each President. It is impossible to explain them. Even after passing through the Presidential office, I find it still remains a mystery. Why one person is selected for it and many others are rejected cannot be told. The people respond as they do to its influence seems to be beyond inquiry. Any man who has been placed in the White House cannot feel that it is the result of his own exertions or his own merit. Some power outside and beyond him becomes manifest through him. As he contemplates the workings of his office, he comes to realize with an increasing sense of humility that he is but an instrument in the hands of God.

Catalogue Library In British Museum

International News Service. LONDON Sept. 12.—If sufficient financial support can be obtained, it is proposed to publish the largest and costliest catalog in the world—a guide to the 3,000,000 or so books in the British Museum Library.

The last catalog of the great library was issued between 1881 and 1900, and contained approximately 100,000 volumes, with about twenty entries to a column.

The number of columns in the new edition would be about 100,000. This would mean the issue of a new edition in 105 volumes of 500 pages.

With 400 subscribers it will be possible to offer the catalog at $15 a volume; it would be issued at the rate of 15 volumes a year, so that the cost to a subscriber would be about $225 a year. The complete catalog will cost subscribers approximately $2,500.

Nebraska Twins More Alike Than Two Peas

International News Service. DENVER, Sept. 12.—Lirus and Leon Carroll, twins in more ways than physical appearance.

First they are both athletes of striking similarity. They each held down a backfield position on the Cambridge high school football team; were mate forwards on the basketball team; each star in the hurdles and broad jump on the track and each took part in the shuttle relay team that established a new interscholastic record at the Nebraska meet last year.

The two Carrolls have been visiting relatives in Longmont, Colo., and made frequent visits to Denver. They plan to attend the university of Nebraska next fall.

British Jockey Loses Weight On Suet Diet

International News Service. LONDON Sept. 12.—It's like holding a red flag before a bull to mention the word suet to Harry Gunn, seven-year-old English racehorse jockey.

Gunn only weighs seventy pounds. Unlike the usual run of jockeys, he would like to increase his weight. The problem of getting heavier is worrying him so much that he is actually getting thinner.

"I spend more pennies on weighing myself than any man alive," Gunn wails. "I hate suet pudding. Gunn I have to eat it to try to get fatter. My life is all suet. It is suet, suet, day after day. If I could find the man who invented suet I'd tell him a few things about himself."

Horseshoe King Says Dobbin Holding Own

International News Service. CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The mystery concerning the disappearance of man's faithful friend from the highways is cleared up by Edward N. Gosselin, American horseshoe king, recently returned from a vacation at Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies.

Gosselin says there are 30,000,000 horses and mules in the United States including 100,000 saddle horses and several thousand race horses. Although few of the animals are seen on the highways since the coming of the "gas bugles," they continue indispensable to millions, city trucking concerns and to the farmer for certain types of labor where tractors are impracticable.

"That 'Dobbin' is holding his own in competition with the mechanical monsters that threaten his job," he indicated, according to Gosselin, by the great amount of horseshoes that is imported from Canada each year.

Vets Fighting Navy's Plan To Scrap Olympia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Six hundred veterans of the Spanish-American war will lead the Senate drive for legislation to save the Cruiser Olympia from a naval scrapheap. Patriotic organizations have launched a campaign to save the Olympia, which was the flagship of Admiral Dewey at the Battle of Manila Bay, as a memorial to the Spanish-American war. If successful, the cruiser would be permanently docked in the Potomac River within a few hundred yards of the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial.

The hundreds of thousands of veterans to Washington this month, the keel of the ship which helped win America's greatest modern-day sea battle. It would serve too, leaders of the save-the-Olympia move believe, to remind the American people of the sacrifices incurred by the soldiers and sailors of the war of '98.

Six Senators, who saw service under arms in that struggle, were: Walter E. Edge (R) of N. J., Robert E. Howell (R) of Neb., Smith W. Brookhart (R) of Iowa, Edwin S. Brousard (D) of La., Tom Connally (D) of Texas, and Lawrence D. Tyson (D) of Tenn. Each had an interesting war record and, while none of them served together in that war, all finally came to serve together in the Senate.

Edge volunteered in 1898 and served with Company F, 4th regiment, New Jersey Volunteer Infantry. He was the company's second lieutenant. Afterwards, he used his military experience as the basis for a long term in the New Jersey National Guard. Subsequently, he commanded that guard as governor of New Jersey.

Howell was in the American navy during the Spanish-American war. He had graduated from the Annapolis academy in 1885 and at the outbreak of the war was a member of the Academy's official Board of Visitors. He returned to active service during the war.

Brookhart, as member of the town National Guard in 1898, went into active service. It was while commanding a company of guardsmen that Brookhart first achieved fame as a marksman. His training then led him to develop this ability until in 1912 he captained the United States rifle team which won the world's championship at the Stockholm Olympic events. He never reached the battle line in the war of '98 but later he served in the Mexican border campaign as well as the World War.

Down in Cuba. Brousard however was under fire in Cuba. He volunteered in '98 with the Louisiana infantry. His home state being on the gulf, his unit was one of the first sent to Cuba. His service won such commendation he later was associated with the Taft Commission which investigated conditions in the Philippine Islands.

Connally, once rejected as a volunteer, subsequently slipped into Second Regiment of Texas Volunteers and served there throughout the war. His principal regret was that he never reached Cuba—an honor he could achieve if his first effort to enlist had been successful.

Tyson, a graduate of West Point in 1883, had twelve years of Indian warfare under his belt before he volunteered in 1898. He was named colonel of the Sixth Regiment, U. S. Volunteers. He took his command to Porto Rico, where it saw service. In later years, Tyson became a brigadier general and saw service in France during the World War.

These six men, having a deeper understanding of the Spanish-American war than their colleagues, will champion the cause of the Olympia. If they fail in securing the congressional action, the Dewey flagship will end its days on a junk heap.

Corn Roast Given By Highland Class

Fine Program Of Sports Carried Out In Event At Annual Event At Lakewood

With 150 members of the congregation in attendance the annual corn roast of the Men's Bible Class of the Highland U. P. church, held last evening at Lakewood Beach was a decided success.

The response to the invitation of the members of the class to join with them on the occasion was well answered by the rest of the congregation, and with fine weather prevailing, members of the class and their friends made most of the occasion. Food was at a premium, and not a single scrap was left, which speaks well of the committee which had charge of this feature.

After the dinner, a program of sports in which events had been arranged for the youngest up to the oldest was carried out, under the direction of Chairman F. E. Cartwright and his committee. John A. McGrath was general chairman of the committee in charge.

Strouss-Hirshberg Company New Store Will Open On Saturday

All Now In Readiness For Formal Opening Of New Local Store

Strouss-Hirshberg Company Will Present New Store To Public Saturday

Occupies Three Floors Of Frew Building At Mill And North Streets

Of exceeding interest to the buying public of New Castle, is the opening of the "large modern store beautiful" of the Strouss-Hirshberg Company, which will take place on Saturday, September 14.

The new store occupies two floors and mezzanine of the Frew Building at Mill and North streets, and is modern in its every phase and appointment. When the official opening is made to the public on Saturday, this space will be filled entirely with new stocks, the very latest in fashion creations, as well as the largest in accessory merchandise.

At a o'clock Friday evening, the modern display windows of the store will be revealed for the first time. It is expected that their beauty, as well as the store's interior decorations, will make this store one of the show places of New Castle.

I. STROUSS One of the original founders, 54 years ago, of The Strouss-Hirshberg Co.

At the store is a special service division in charge of Miss Gertrude Fulkerson, who will render special shopping assistance to buyers and visitors.

For repairing and remodeling will also be offered, which should prove a feature which will be made use of by patrons of the store. A section has also been provided to do hem-of this city. This should be refreshing and gratifying to New Castle folks, who enjoy a similar confidence and who are interested in a greater New Castle.

Strouss-Hirshberg Policies

"In our expansion program," said C. J. Strouss, president of the Strouss-Hirshberg Company in Youngstown, "it is our plan to establish other stores as much like the main store in Youngstown, as possible. We have always endeavored to operate a friendly, cheery type of store. Our buyers understand the importance we attach to correct fashions. Our quality standards are the highest. We believe that our Youngstown patrons have a high confidence in our methods and ways of dealing. It is our firm intention that the New Castle store reflects the policies of ours."

The New Castle store will enjoy economic advantages because of its affiliation with the Youngstown store. The two stores will buy together. The main store sources of fashion information and market contacts, will work for the good of the New Castle store, but in management, control, and civic contacts, the New Castle store will stand alone. It will be indeed, a New Castle institution. We do not hope to grow at the expense of other good stores, but rather, along with them, and along with New Castle.

Expend Large Sum On Store

Approximately $50,000 Is Spent In Remodeling Frew Building

STROUSS-HIRSHBERG STORE BEAUTIFUL

Saturday's opening of New Castle's Strouss-Hirshberg store follows an investment of more than $50,000 in improving the Frew Building and adapting it to their use.

New Castle contractors and workmen have been intensely busy for the past few months, speeding up the completion of the interior work. The result is a store setting of beauty and attractiveness, which is indeed a credit to New Castle, and which will be a revelation to the buying public when it is thrown open for their inspection.

In its appointments, it will be one of the finest institutions of its kind to be found anywhere. It is truly a metropolitan mart, modern, inviting and delightful.

Companion Store to Frew's.

Frew's and Strouss-Hirshberg's it should be understood are entirely separate concerns. Frew's, because of having moved out their reserve stocks have also actually enlarged their selling and display space in the building. James R. Frew, in a statement to The News, in regard to the coming of the Strouss-Hirshberg firm to their building, has this to say:

"The Frew Furniture Co. is today, a greater Frew's. Our stocks are larger, more than ever before, and the price range is wider. We have located our reserve stocks in a separate warehouse. Formerly they were in the same building. Our future plans call for two additional stories to be added to the Frew Building, when needed."

"We believe the character of business such as Strouss-Hirshberg conduct, is like the character of Frew's. We aimed to be very careful in choosing our tenant associates, and we believe that we have been. We leased Strouss-Hirshberg's a space with the idea of making the Frew corner more popular than ever. We saw we could do this without restricting our own business, but rather enlarge it by having a separate warehouse. You may well look upon Frew's today as a 'greater Frew's'."

All New Merchandise.

"Completeness" in quite a full interpretation of the word which marks the merchandise showing of the New Castle Strouss-Hirshberg store. The store opens with over fifty departments established, and with an entirely new stock of merchandise on the shelves and counters.

These stocks include wearables for women, misses, children and infants, as well as accessories, fabrics and home needs. The freshness and newness of all stocks, will give to the opening an unique appeal. The word "new" will stand out in its fullest meaning.

Frew Building Is Entirely Remodelled For Two Large Stores

Frew Co. Store Much Larger

Display Space Is Added To And Staff Is Enlarged

ANOTHER STORY MAY BE BUILT

Within the past few months a remarkable change has been wrought in the Frew Co. building at Mill and North streets, the resulting development being a real big city store.

In planning these changes the architects made a trip of inspection to the principal stores of the northern section of the United States between New York and Grand Rapids, studying store layouts and equipment, and have combined the best points that were observed during this trip for their store here.

The result is one of the most complete institutions to be found anywhere in the United States.

The Frew Co. is now equipped to render one hundred per cent service to the citizens of New Castle and surrounding territory in designing and equipping their home, from the exterior to the interior, even suggesting the layout of the home as an architect would.

This complete service has been made possible by the addition to the staff of recognized artists in their line in this city.

Add to Staff
Fred Marsh has been added to the staff of exterior and interior decorating and will have full charge of all painting and decorating work to be done by the company. H. J. Phillips will be in charge of the wall paper service, while Albert C. Lusk has been engaged to take charge of all remodeling and cabinet work. All are specialists in their line, and added to the regular store staff of interior decorators, everyone a trained executive. The Frew Co. is enabled to offer the most complete service that can be found anywhere in the country.

The entire object of the Frew Company has been to place the decorating and planning service of the store on the highest plane possible, all of which will be offered to store patrons without any added cost.

In addition there are workshops special floor coverings, upholstering effects, finishing and decorating effects for general use or special occasions may be worked out.

The policy of the store will be to guarantee absolute satisfaction in every department to the patrons of the store.

James A. Frew, in a statement today, said that they want the people of New Castle to feel that Frew's is a dependable store, dependable for style, durability and price.

In leasing a portion of their space to Strouss-Hirshberg's, they have removed their warehouse to a separate building and have finished one complete floor which had not been in use heretofore, and which was constructed with the idea of providing for future growth by the company.

In addition, plans are under way for adding another story to the building when the occasion demands.

Some men have what is called a spottish reputation; in others, however, one notices a sort of polka dot pattern. —The Cincinnati Times-Star.

Model Home Is Store Feature

New Frew Company Store Presents Complete Model Home

MODERN IDEAS ARE PRESENTED

One of the features which will be found in the new and greater Frew's store will be a complete model home, built inside the store, and which occupies one whole side section of the third floor.

Here a model home has been constructed, with each room actual size. It consists of a living room, dining room, bedroom, sun parlor and kitchen.

Each room has been finished exactly as it would be if the home were erected outside on a plot of ground. In the living room is to be found a mantel and fireplace, with all the cozy furnishings that accompany.

All the other rooms are furnished accordingly, with a tasteful selection of furniture and furnishings. The dining room is decorated with a special plaster effect, with flowers, worked into the plaster on the border, which extends around the upper portion, all of which the Frew Company is prepared to furnish in the decorating of a home for any of their patrons. The latest color tones and comfortable furniture are used in the other rooms of the model home.

The idea in creating this model home has not been to show what can be done in home decoration on an elaborate scale, but rather to show how economically any person can plan and furnish their home, with the most modern developments in decorative art. Simplicity, durability and attractiveness are stressed, at the lowest cost possible.

Occupying the same suite is the office of the interior decorator. Here one can sit down and plan a harmonious combination in furniture, decorations, floor coverings and furniture coverings.

If the color of the upholstery on the chairs and furniture selected does not meet with the approval of the patron, there are samples which can be applied to the furniture coverings instead of those already in place. If one has odd pieces of furniture he wishes matched this can be worked out. Or selections to harmonize with floor coverings already on hand can be obtained by a study from the big stock which The Frew Company has to offer.

Similarly, if one desires an odd piece of furniture to match up with pieces in the home, there is a vast cabinet containing styles of furniture not in the book which can be obtained on short notice from the great furniture markets of the United States.

In fact, there is not one detail in the furnishing of your home which has been overlooked by the members of the home, and the extra service to be obtained is offered without any additional cost to the purchaser.

Quiet Prevails Along Frontier In Manchuria

Soviet And Chinese Forces Continue To Patrol Border, No Clashes Reported

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Sept. 12.—A condition of virtual inactivity prevailed along the Manchurian front today, as Soviet and Chinese forces continued to patrol the border with no new clashes reported.

There has been no new outbreak since the bloody outbreak which lasted over the week-end, and apparently resulted in decisive victory for the Soviet forces.

New reports from Chinese generals in the affected area state that, the town of Pogranichnaya, one of the key points along the border, was reduced virtually to ashes by the severe fighting which followed the initial Soviet attack.

The town, according to reports, is almost deserted. All military and government officials have been removed, and the populace is being evacuated for fear of renewed attacks.

An official government announcement states that the Chinese forces are now being assembled at Minshu, ferry miles from Pogranichnaya, and the next city of any importance along that section of the border. Reinforcements are being sent to the spot in the hope of warding off future attacks.

Crossing Watchman Victim Of Attack

(International News Service)
HOMESTEAD, Pa., Sept. 12.—Armando Later, 49, railroad crossing watchman here, was found lying near the tracks early today. He was unconscious and suffering a possible fractured skull and numerous head bruises.

Coke Production Shows Increase

(International News Service)
CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 12.—

Coke production which reached the second low ebb of the year the final week in August, opened the first week of September with an increase which may spell a period of more encouraging output. A gain of 2,399 tons was recorded last week, advancing the week's total to 62,990 tons. This was entirely at furnace plants, the merchants suffering a loss of 300 tons.

The total of ovens now operating in this section is 6,216, an addition of 43 going into blast during the week. The stimulus resulting from an increased demand in heating coke, usually beginning to develop in September, has not yet begun. The abnormally high temperature during the first week of the month reacted as a set-back to the purchase of winter fuel.

The estimated production for the week was divided between the two interests, furnace and merchant, as follows: furnace 42,210 tons, a gain of 2,080 tons; merchant 40,570 a loss of 300 tons. The previous week a loss of 6,320 tons in furnace coke and 5,160 tons in merchant was recorded.

Old Dobbin had his little faults, but a few scratches on the outside didn't cause the family to clamor for a new one.

Government Specialist Shows 18-Day Diet May Harm Some Folks

By ALICE BERNADETTA WALL
Central Press Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—When a doctor prescribes the 18-day diet, he is not thinking of the harm it may do to some patients, but rather of the good it will do to others.

Even though the modern specialty favors some patterned foodstuff, the only true interest is that the diet should be a good one for the patient.

Not until we learn that it is a foodstuff of which the physician himself is a fanatical devotee, does he prescribe it. It is not until he has tried it himself, and found it to be a good one, that he recommends it to his patients.

On the contrary, quite likely it is a first-class foodstuff and a first-class diet. The fact that the doctor is making a mistake and that out of the combination, as a side line to his practice, does not necessarily detract one whit from its value.

Take the recently celebrated 18-day diet for instance.

Assistant Surgeon General R. C. Williams, before speaking at the United States public health service, speaks exceedingly well of citrus fruit.

He mentions it merely as a source of coincidences that the 18-day diet appears to have originated in Hollywood, that it is a diet especially rich in citrus fruit, that Hollywood is in California and that California is a great citrus and fruit state.

All of this proves nothing whatever against the 18-day diet. Dr. Williams agrees. He goes no farther than to say that it may be hazardous. However, well, explains the doctor, individuals vary and the things that suit them vary, too.

At best, as he points out, the sufferer certainly cannot cure himself of a disease which really afflicts him, by mistakenly dieting for something else that he is not a victim of at all, and at worst his diet is liable to positively aggravate his real complaint.

A physician must first determine what the illness is and then prescribe the correct diet for it. If a diet is required at all, insists the assistant surgeon general.

As for folk who simply are overweight, Dr. Williams suggests somewhat less food all round; not on just a few dishes alone.

They cannot safely overdo it, either, he adds, for a pound a week is about enough, no matter how fat one may be, or the reduction will be weakening, readjustment should be gradual. For folk in sound health appetite is a pretty reliable guide. That rule is not to be overlooked, observes the specialist.

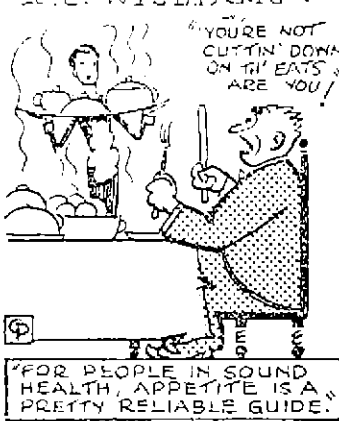

Agricultural Surplus

Finally, we must not forget that these are times of an agricultural surplus. Farm production is food production in the main. What nearer way of unloading the public to eat it up? If that is possible, it cannot be done, with an entire excess crop of everything. Maybe, however, it can with a few commodities.

Give a thought to that idea, in weighing the merits of much pressed ancient diet fads, urges Dr. Williams.

The Way OF THE World

AS TO MEAT.

When experts disagree the common, ordinary run of us are really in trouble. Stefansson and Anderson Arctic explorers, went on an all-meat diet for more than a year in New York. At the end of the period tests gave no evidence of decrease in muscular or mental activities; there was no damage to the kidneys; the blood pressure was unaffected and the weight little changed. All of which goes to show how far vegetarian faddists may be wrong. Quoting from the report on the experiment by Dr. Dubois, medical director of the Russell Sage Institute of Pathology, one reads:

"This experiment was carried out in the temperate climate of New York city with two men of sedentary habits who were writing and doing other types of brain work along with only moderate amounts of exercise.

"They lived the usual lives while on the all-meat diet without any noticeable effect upon their health. Full physical and mental vigor was maintained."

COW CALLING.

A Missouri county fair features a cow-calling contest. Volume of voice, musical quality and "cow appeal" all are counted. The prize is a cow bell. Not a bad idea. Voices trained for calling cows may perhaps be used to better advantage in the normal farm life of the land than in jazz choruses and saxophone outfits.

BUTLER ROWS.

Dispute over a butler results in an upset in diplomatic circles in Washington. A South American diplomat resigns. That's one of the chief troubles in the lives of most of us. Not butler troubles but the human tendency to make small things big and get excited over trifles. By pushing out horizons and holding a large view of life we might learn to keep butler problems in their right place near the end of the list.

WHOLESOMENESS.

Spectators in various cities watching Alleen Riggan, Olympic diving champion, learn again that health and wholesomeness make a combination that brings victory in all the competitions of life that are worth entering. Miss Riggan, modest, unassuming, clean-living and clean-thinking, wins not only because of her enthusiastic interest in the thing she is doing but because of a healthy life and a wholesome outlook. There is no substitute for the fundamental value of wholesomeness.

Train Passengers Are Under Fire In Trip Through Mexico

(International News Service)
LAREDO, Tex., Sept. 12.—Although 700 rounds of shots were fired into a passenger train running between here and Monterrey, Nuevo Leon, Mexico, none of the train's occupants were injured, passengers on the train reported upon arrival here.

One coach occupied by 46 children enroute from Monterrey to schools in New Orleans, was riddled with bullets. The children were uninjured when they complied with the conductor's order to lie flat on the floor.

The firing took place five kilometers south of Salinas, Nuevo Leon, and was believed to have constituted an attempt to halt the train.

Utility Santa Claus

Samuel Insull, utility king of Chicago, is a veritable "Santa Claus" to thousands of Chicagoans whose stock in his companies rose two and three hundred per cent in value. Some securities, obtainable for a few dollars several years ago are now worth almost $500. Insull's policy is one of "customer ownership," a fortunate one for numerous Chicago families who have become independent as a result.

perishable food products spoil.
Why do they spoil?
Government Authorities have found that an average temperature

OCTOBER RANKS NEXT TO JUNE AS FAVORITE WEDDING MONTH
Next in importance to June on the bridal calendar is the month of October. It is the ideal time for traveling, and the October bride has the advantage of choosing her going away clothes from the smart fall collections. Two of the weddings recently planned by Frances For Clynne, New York dressmaker, which were widely commented upon, were for two girls of distinct types—the demure and the stately. For the first Miss Clynne chose a bridal gown of white crepe georgette with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her tulle veil was surmounted by a quaint lace cap with orange blossoms dripping at either side. She carried lilies of the valley. Her attendants were dressed in apple and green tulle with picture hats to match. The second bride was tall and willowy and was dressed in pale ivory with form fitting bodice and swathed hips, the skirt falling softly and irregularly to the hemline. Her tulle veil fitted her head snugly and was caught at the nape of the neck, giving quite a nunlike appearance. She carried calla lilies. Her bridesmaids were dressed in crimson tulle with close fitting tulle cloches and crimson velvet jackets.

Green Gladiola In Ohio Garden Is First Known

(International News Service)
LIMA, O., Sept. 12.—What is believed to be the only green gladiola in the world is blooming in the garden of William H. Bradford, 45 miles south of here.

The green gladiola which is attracting considerable attention among horticulturists stands 30 inches tall, and took two years of experimentation to produce.

Bradford, who may prove to be a second Luther Burbank, explained that the rare plant was produced by a secret process involving the grafting of gladiola plants of seven different colors. The colors which were blended are crimson, yellow, purple, white, dark pink, lavender and orange.

Floriculturists and flower lovers who have examined the rare plant have been plainly amazed and puzzled. Congratulations have been extended to Bradford for his genius in producing the flower.

Experimentation to produce rare flowers and vegetables in Bradford's life hobby. His ambition is to some day have a green house with adequate facilities for producing new forms of plant life.

The flower genius declares he has been experimenting with plants and vegetables for 15 years.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says,
"Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Order-called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gen-dose.

216 Creeds In U. S. Worship In Own Churches

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—If asked to name the churches and creeds existing in America, the average man could enumerate probably 15 or 20, by thinking hard—a list beginning alphabetically with Adventists and ranging through the well established sects to Universalists.

He would miss his mark by approximately 200, for by the most authoritative figures obtainable there are at least 216 distinct religious bodies now active in the United States, according to Charles W. Ferguson, who has just completed a survey.

There are 19 divisions of Methodists now functioning, Ferguson shows.
Baptist bodies number 18. Presby-terianism has nine different bodies of adherents, and there are 22 kinds of Lutheran churches, 17 major bodies of Mennonites, and seven divisions of eastern Orthodox churches.

Smaller Sects.
But raised from these divisions of long established churches, and part from the great bodies of Roman Catholics and Jews, there are more than 100 minor sects whose names, creeds and purposes are unknown to the vast mass of Americans, and most of them are flourishing. Altogether they number more than 2,000, 000 adherents.

"Far from being an age of unbelief, this is an age of incredible belief," declared Ferguson. "Certainly we cannot be said to be an irreligious nation; we are so religious that we become perverse about it. It should be borne in mind that each sect 7-mentioned represents an entirely serious and emphatic departure from accepted religions; each is, to all interests and purposes, a new religion."

While protestantism has given rise to most of these dissatisfied offspring of older religions, neither Roman Catholicism nor the ancient Jewish faith has remained unaffected, the World's Work article points out.

There now exists the Liberal Catholic church which claims a valid succession from the Apostle Peter but denies the authority of Rome, and a Jewish Science organization coinciding in respect to organization and methods with Christian Science, is spreading from its New York headquarters. Even Atheism, as practiced under the banner of American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, has not escaped its schism. The liberal church of America, established as an atheistic organization, now has bodies in Denver, Seattle and San Diego.

Some of the recent Protestant organizations noted by Ferguson are:
The Apostolic Overcoming Holy Church of God, The Church of God,
The Church of God as Organized by Christ, The North American Roman Catholic church, The Father of Peace church, The Church of Daniel's Band, the Churches of God, Holiness and the Pentecostal Holiness church.

Much Needy Work Accomplished By B. P. W. Clinic

Club Members To Sponsor Pag-nant, To Be Presented Early In October

The Business and Professional Woman's Club of New Castle have completed their Ear, Eye, Nose and Throat Clinic for this year, the cases having been operated on Wednesday, September 11th.

This year the clinic took care of 45 cases of diseased tonsils and adenoids. All of these cases were investigated, and only those were done who could not be taken care of as private cases. Several doctors referred worthy cases to the clinic and also many more asked for help, only 45 were cared for.

This clinic has been operating for school children only, for the past four years, during which time more than 200 cases of diseased tonsils and adenoids have been removed, several bad ear cases have been cared for, and more than 25 eyes have been examined and glasses furnished.

This clinic began because of the need for this work discovered by the school doctors, who reported the same cases year after year, but accomplished nothing, because families could never afford to follow the advice of the school doctor. It includes the county children as well as the city children.

Early in October the Business and Professional Woman's Club will sponsor a program portraying the characters of the "Book of Ruth." This will be not only entertaining but also very instructive, in the history and customs of the ancient people.

Much credit is due Miss Agnes Mc-Laughlin, chairman of the Social Service Committee, Miss Della Glen,
vice chairman, and Miss Emma Dodds, Miss Ann Matley, and Miss Helen Stressley, the members of the committee, who were in charge of this work this year.

BIKE ENDURANCE TEST BROKEN UP BY POLICE

(International News Service)
NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Sept. 12.— Police were called by irate residents of Franklin Square here to end a race that was destroying sleep in the district. And the police found that a group of boys were holding a bicycle endurance contest all because one of their number had boasted of riding thirteen hours at a stretch.

When the police interfered, one boy had ridden for fifteen hours and fifty minutes and another over fourteen hours. The boys just had to talk and sing while they were riding, and that kept the neighbors awake.

The granulated hard-water soap for whiter clothes from tub or washer

When 52,000 demonstrators of washing machines say, "Rinso!"—
When the makers of 38 of the best-known washers say, "Rinso!"—
When millions of women all over the country say, "Rinso is best in washing machine or tub!"—
You can be sure there's good reason why YOU should change to Rinso, too! This granulated hard-water soap gives rich, creamy suds even in hardest water. You don't need a softener. The dirt looses, and clothes come from the washer snow-white, without a bit of hard rubbing anywhere. Even boiling isn't needed!

In tub washing, Rinso socks the clothes whiter than they can be scrubbed. That saves the clothes; hands, too. Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps—it's so compact. Get the BIG package.

"Yard" Methods For Police Of Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The science employed by Scotland Yard and other great crime detecting centers of Europe will be brought to Chicago for use in the campaign against crime and lawlessness here, it was revealed today.

Representatives of the newly formed scientific crime detection laboratory have had the secret files of England, France, Italy, Germany and Austria made open for their inspection and study.

This was revealed by Dean H. Wig-law school, secretary of the new laboratory. The plans as revealed are expected ultimately to break the way for virtual elimination of all forms of lawbreaking.

Modern Sir Gallahad Runs Into Difficulty

Boarder Feels Sorry For Wife Of Landlord, Runs Away With Her, Is Arrested

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Thomas Grissom was something of a Sir Gallahad, it appeared today when he told his story in central police station. He comforted Mrs. Ethel Farrell, 33, whose husband was so jealous he delivered the ice himself to ward off potential home-wreckers.

New Navy Airship On Trip Eastward

New Navy All-Metal Dirigible On Trip From Detroit To Lakehurst Today

(International News Service) CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 12.—The ZMC-2, the new navy all-metal dirigible, was believed flying eastward early today on the first leg of its 580-other men, she said today, despite the fact she had evinced some domesticity by bearing thirteen children in thirteen years.

When Mrs. Farrell disappeared her husband was somewhat puzzled. He had lugged ice himself and brought home the milk to keep potential shies away, and now his wife was gone. Police found her with Grissom who insisted he became sorry for her plight while a boarder in her home and was merely helping her elude her husband's suspicions.

The latter part of the statement was subscribed to by Mrs. Farrell herself, from West Jersey Homeopathic hospital, where she was taken after she and Grissom were arrested last night on a houseboat on the Camden side of the Delaware river.

The cautious Mr. Farrell was sure his home life was menaced by the fatal attraction of Mrs. Farrell for the trip from Detroit to Lakehurst, N. J. It was sighted over Canton, Ohio, about 1 a. m. this morning by officials of the United States weather bureau there, according to reports here.

The airship's pilot planned to take over the air mail route from here and follow it to New Jersey, where the craft is to be berthed in the navy hangar at Lakehurst beside the giant Los Angeles.

Reports received here of the ship's progress from Detroit to Canton indicated that the all-metal dirigible bucked a 10-mile wind on the first stage of its flight.

The dirigible was commanded by Captain William E. Kepner of the army, when it left Detroit. It carried 300 gallons of gasoline and 12 million of oil.

514 South Street, Clarion, Pa. Sept. 12, 1929.

Dear Mr. Riney:

Please renew our subscription for three months which expires September 16, as we do not want to miss any copies. I am glad to see the Jameson Memorial hospital is functioning at last. I am a graduate of the Shenango Valley hospital and we have moved a new building for a long time and I hope the people of New Castle appreciate it as they should. We have no hospital in this county and I know what it is to go to work without a good hospital.

JUST TO REMIND YOU

In presenting myself as a Candidate for the Republican Nomination for Sheriff of Lawrence County

I have tried to meet each and every voter personally by making a house to house call. My time was limited, having a living to make as well as a campaign. If I have missed you it was not done intentionally. I have at all times tried to represent myself in a clean and manly way. I have done nothing during my campaign that would cause any reflection on myself or any of my friends.

I surely do appreciate the way the people have treated me. My friends have been more than kind in standing by me. If you believe my past experience as Chief Deputy Sheriff, and my knowledge of the Sheriff's duties, would give you the efficiency you deserve in the Sheriff's Office, Then I would ask your support on Tuesday, September 17th.

And With Your Vote I Will Win
Sincerely Yours, BILL

That was the declaration today of Calhoun when asked what he thought of McBride's declaration in a speech here last night.

"McBride," said Calhoun, "Oh, yes, I know a man of that name is superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. I've never met him and wouldn't know him if I saw him. I intend to find out if he said what he is purported to have stated. If he did, we'll have to find out just who McBride is and who he thinks he is. At least that's the way I feel about it now."

Calhoun declared he will run his office without any dictation of any kind from anybody outside the prohibition department. He said he might have a few remarks to make as to McBride and the latter's statement, provided the quotations are correct.

Withdraw Troops From Palestine

(International News Service)
JERUSALEM, Sept. 12.—Withdrawal of troops from outlying sections of Palestine began today. Although the feeling of uneasiness which has prevailed since the outbreak of the recent inter-racial rioting is far from having abated.

British officials here believe regular troops stationed throughout the Holy Land are sufficient to maintain order and afford Jewish colonists all necessary protection.

An official bulletin issued from the office of the British high commissioner, Sir John Chancellor, states with the exception of isolated instances the situation has greatly improved.

Twenty bodies of Jews massacred in the Arab attack upon the Hebrew theological school at Hebron have been exhumed in an effort to determine whether, as charged, they were mutilated.

According to the official report of the exhumers, the condition of the bodies made it impossible to determine whether the victims had been mutilated, and the bodies were returned to their graves.

Little joke for today: "He claims to be a Democrat and he doesn't; even know how to pronounce the word deficit."

The Story Of The World War
112—Gathering A Merchant Fleet

WHILE AMERICA WAS BENDING EVERY EFFORT TO PRODUCE VAST QUANTITIES OF FOODSTUFFS AND MUNITIONS FOR THE ALLIES, THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WAS SEEKING TO GATHER ENOUGH MERCHANTMEN TO CARRY THESE SUPPLIES TO EUROPE.

S.S. LEVIATHAN, FORMERLY THE GERMAN
LINER 'VATERLAND'

IMMEDIATELY UPON OUR DECLARATION OF WAR THE GOVERNMENT ADDED MATERIALLY TO THE AVAILABLE TONNAGE BY SEIZING ALL GERMAN SHIPS THAT HAD BEEN INTERNED IN AMERICAN PORTS. AMONG THE SHIPS SEIZED WERE A NUMBER OF GREAT LINERS WHICH LATER RENDERED VALUABLE SERVICE AS TRANSPORTS.

S.S. GEORGE WASHINGTON,
A FORMER GERMAN LINER

THE GOVERNMENT COMMANDEERED ALL SHIPS OVER A CERTAIN SIZE THAT WERE BEING BUILT IN AMERICAN SHIPYARDS, AND MANY OTHER VESSELS WERE PURCHASED OR CHARTERED. IT WAS ALSO PLANNED TO CONSTRUCT HUNDREDS OF MERCHANTMEN.

TO UNDERTAKE THE CREATION AND OPERATION OF AN ADEQUATE MERCHANT FLEET, THE EMERGENCY FLEET CORPORATION WAS ORGANIZED (APRIL 16, 1917). SOON EVERY SHIPYARD IN AMERICA RANG WITH THE BLOWS OF SLEDGES AND ECHOED THE RATTLE OF DRILLS AND RIVETING MACHINES AS THE WORK WAS PUSHED FEVERISHLY ON THE SHIPS THAT WERE TO BRIDGE THE BROAD ATLANTIC FOR AMERICAN TROOPS AND SUPPLIES.

"I am so happy... that the last pimple is gone"

You may be happy, too!

EVERY evening thousands enjoy themselves at dinner-parties, dances, theatres, games, clubs. Many thousands more are denied the joy of such merriment and happiness.

Maybe this denial is due to a skin trouble. First impressions cannot be good without a clear skin—first impressions are quickly made and are not soon forgotten. Old friends may excuse pimples and secretly sympathize, but new acquaintances may not be so charitable. Skin blemishes are not inviting. Neither can they be covered up. They embarrass. Hold people back. Steal away joy and happiness.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

Copyright 1929 S.S.S. Co.

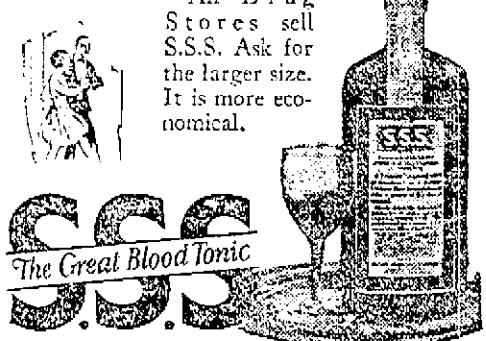

The way to the skin is through the blood. Strong, healthy blood nourishes the body and fights against infection and disease.

A lovely—clear skin—is within the reach of all. To those who have lost it, hope is offered. You, too, may have a beautiful skin, rose-petal in texture, pretty as a picture and without a single pimple.

Many thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking S.S.S. It is Nature's own blood tonic for raising the body's power of resistance to disease, improving the appetite, building firm flesh, and clearing the skin.

Take S.S.S. at meal-time. You will be delighted with its blood building and tonic effect.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Some More Courtesy Rules For Golfers

In Wednesday's issue of The News a partial list of the rules of courtesy or etiquette of golf was published, designed to be of assistance to the many new players who are using the municipal golf course, but who as yet are not thoroughly familiar with the game.

Golfers who read the article approved of it and suggested that there were other things which should be given some attention. One of these is the use of high heeled shoes by women on the greens. A bad thing for the greens and should not be done. A green should be as smooth and true as it is possible to make it and high heeled shoes are the one thing which should never be on a green.

Makes Impressions.

The modern high heeled shoe is narrow and leaves an imprint on a green almost as large as a hole. Not only does it spoil the appearance of the green but it may cost a player a stroke. Putting a ball out of a depression makes for faulty putting and women are urged to stay off the golf course in high heeled shoes. Their male escorts are also urged to not invite them to come out onto the green in such shoes.

Occasionally a wild shot from one fairway will come to rest on the green of another hole. To the new player it is a temptation for a good shot for the hole is perfect. A player who would use a mallet or a midiron on a green is the kind of chap who would wear spiked shoes on a ball-room floor. Never use anything but a putter on a green. Greens cost too much to build and keep up to consider tearing them up with irons. If your ball lies light on the wrong green, lift it and place it on the fairway, at the corner farthest from the hole you are playing. No penalty is attached to lifting the ball.

No Bags On The Green. Another common fault with the new player who is not using a caddy is to lay his bag of clubs down on the green while he puts. Also a bad fault. It may be an obstacle to another player and it will not help the green any. Carry your bag to the edge of the green nearest the next tee you are going to use.

Once in a while there will be caddies who want to sell the player golf balls at a price far under the regular market price. Getting four or five good balls for a dollar is a temptation, but in so doing, the player is helping to build up a vicious practice that will certainly cause trouble.

Caddies are human and if they know they can sell balls they find they may be tempted to kick a ball into the long grass, or tramp it into the ground where they can retrieve it later on. If a caddy attempts to sell you balls, report him to the manager of the golf course. And by all means do not buy from him.

Help to educate the caddies in their duties. Many of them are new to the work and while they want to do the best they can, may be inefficient because of ignorance. A good caddy is back of his player except when the tee shot is being made. When the drive is being made he should be up the fairway about 150 yards, and far out of the line of the drive. This helps him to see where the ball lights. As soon as the foursome has all driven the caddy should start out and spot the ball of the player he is with. When his player is making his fairway shot, he should be far enough in back of him that he does not interfere and the caddy whose player is first on the green should be on the flag, ready to pull it out of the hole if a short approach shot runs up to the cup. Help your caddy and you will be helping yourself. Don't bowl him out if he doesn't find a ball right away. He can't help it if you happen to make wild shots.

Replace Divots. See that the caddy replaces divots. A divot, if you do not know, is the chunk of sod you tear out when you make an iron shot. It is far better to tear out a thick piece of sod than to pick the ball off the turf clean and burn off the grass. A divot that is replaced immediately and tramped down will not leave a bad hole for the next player, and the sod will grow again.

Unplayable Lies. There will be times when your ball will be unplayable. It may come to rest squarely against a tree, or a post, or a fence, or it may be that it goes down into declivity against a stone. If it is unplayable you are permitted to move it a club length away, with a penalty of one stroke.

A foursome has the right of way on a golf course. If a threesome is playing ahead of it and the threesome is holding up progress, the foursome has the right to go through. A single player has few rights on a golf course. A twosome can go through him or a threesome or a foursome. No more than four are allowed to play in a group.

There will be times when a foursome composed of ladies will be ahead of a male foursome. The average man drives a longer ball than a woman and it is considered only common courtesy for the ladies' foursome to wave the men through when they are playing directly in back of them. The men will soon be out of the road of the ladies and by so doing the ladies will speed up the progress of the game.

Friday's News will carry further hints on golf etiquette. Any player who is just starting on the municipal course who has any question he wants answered is invited to write his question and mail it to The News.

Philadelphia Is Expecting Trouble At Primary Polls

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Bloodshed and the hiring of imported thugs in this city in the impending primary election battle, and control of the polls by partisan police are impending, State Senator Samuel W. Salus charged here Wednesday.

Director of Public Safety Schofield has given orders to police lieutenants to be on the watch, particularly in the wards controlled by the William S. Vare machine, Salus said. During the election September 17, policemen will be sent into the organization wards, according to Salus.

Leads Iowa Fight

Iowa's fight for reinstatement in the Western conference is being led by Dean C. C. Williams of the college of engineering. He will work with E. H. Lauer, recently appointed director of athletics. According to the present status of Iowa's case, the Hawkeyes' Big Ten competition will conclude with the coming football season.

When your foursome has holed out on the green, do not stand on the green discussing various shots, arguing about each other's score and marking it on the score card. Get off the green as soon as your foursome has holed out and let the fellows following you play up to the green.

While the municipal course at present is in such shape that winter rains are in effect, there will come a time, perhaps next summer, when regular rules will apply. This means playing your ball as it lies. You are not allowed to remove any growing thing, neither are you allowed to improve your lie in any manner. If there happens to be several stones near your ball, you can remove them if you do not touch your ball. When you are in the rough you are not allowed to improve your lie, even though it be in high grass, except to part the grass enough that you can see your ball.

Railway Head Makes New Records In Golf

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 10.—J. J. Pelley, the New Haven road's new president, has developed a liking for golf that has surprised his colleagues in the north. President Pelley has made several course records in the New Haven region, one in particular on the new municipal course here which is down on the books as an unusually hard course.

President Pelley, playing with minor employees of the railroad went over the eighteen holes with a much lower score than even some of the state's crack golfers had done. On private links he has done equally well.

Cities with freak traffic laws could make a big hit with lots of well-meaning motorists by advertising 'em on billboards at the edge of town.

RESERVATIONS ARE AVAILABLE IN LEGION CAR

Need Ten More To Fill Special Coach To Louisville Convention In October

Announcement was made today by members of the committee in charge of securing a special Pullman to the national American Legion convention at Louisville, that reservations are still available for 10 more people.

The committee has been fortunate in securing a very low rate to the convention, the round trip fare, including sleeping privileges in the Pullman while at Louisville, being $30. Already 16 men have signed up to go and have deposited their money in advance. Ten more must be secured before the railroad will grant the special rate. Unless this number is secured the offer will be extended to those outside the organization.

While in Louisville the car will be parked in the station yards, close to the convention hall and the center of activities, so that those attending will be sure of being in the center of all that is going on.

Thomas Edmunds, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the car, stated today that Monday, Sept. 16, is the last day that reservations can be made, and all those expecting to attend are asked to notify Mr. Edmunds or Robert Armstrong by that time.

During the first six months of the present year manufacturers in the Eastern section, comprising Eastern New York, New Jersey, Maryland, District of Columbia, Delaware and Eastern Pennsylvania, reported sales of $32,875,340, as against $32,859,249 in the first six months of 1928.

Breakstones In Annual Meeting Honor Forbear

(International News Service)
NORTH WHITE LAKE, N. Y., Sept. 12.—About 120 years ago Napoleon Bonaparte publicly acknowledged that he owed his life to the caring and sagacity of a humble Jewish peasant named Breakstone, who lived near the Neman river in Russia. Later the "Little Corporal" rewarded the peasant by giving him a duchy.

In North White Lake recently more than 200 descendants of that Breakstone gathered in annual reunion to pay homage to the memory of that daring peasant and to keep alive the spirit that made it possible for him to save the life of the Emperor of France.

Helped Napoleon.
The archives of the Breakstone Family association record that Napoleon, hard pressed by the Russians on his famous retreat, stopped at the Breakstone cottage and asked for succor. He was taken in, hidden safely until the pursuing force swept on and then was led to a more friendly region from where he was able to escape to his own lines.

Breakstones are spread all over the globe with about 1,800 on the association rolls. The name was adopted more than 200 years ago in Lithuania and today there are many variations in the spelling of the name, but all are Breakstones.

Breakstones from 14 states and three countries were registered at the 1929 reunion. Among those registered were Etienne Bregstein, Amsterdam, Holland, the Hoover of Holland during the World War and his wife; Abraham Breakstone, prominent New York attorney; Sam Breakstone, alderman of Corinth, Miss.; Jerome S. Breakstone, assistant prosecuting attorney, Chicago; Isaac Breakstone, cheese manufacturer, New York; Dr. Benjamin Breakstone, chief surgeon of the West End hospital, Chicago; Joe Browning, well known comedian of the stage; Nathan Brickstein, U. S. customs officer, New York, and Dr. David M. Levy, chief of the Institute for Child Guidance, New York.

German In Glider Makes New Record

(International News Service)
AKRON, O., Sept. 12.—Aeronautical history was written here recently by Dr. Wolfgang Klemperer, German aviation expert when he was towed in his secondary engineless plane behind a Goodyear blimp to a height of 2,500 feet where he cut loose and circled downward to earth at the starting point.

Dr. Klemperer's flight was the second of its kind made in history. He was taken on a 20 mile tow by his glider by the dirigible making a 60-mile an hour speed. At a position 2,500 feet above the Akron airport, Dr. Klemperer cut loose from the blimp and in long, graceful swoops, glided for more than 15 minutes, finally settling on the spot where he had taken off.

The demonstration, according to aviation authorities, proves the feasibility of using the glider as a means of descent from high speed dirigibles in flight.

Former Yale Athlete Farmed To New Haven

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Sept. 12.—Bruce Caldwell, once Yale's greatest athlete, and later on a football storm center, has been "seasoning" in the New Haven team of the Eastern League here, having been farmed out by Cleveland, playing first base, has been a tower of strength to the team, batting better than .350 and leading the league in home run hitting.

Ken Strong, the New York University star, also plays with New Haven this year, patrolling left field.

DROWNING WARNINGS NOT PROPERLY HEEDED

"It seems that warnings on drownings are not being properly heeded this season. The number of deaths from this cause is becoming unfortunately large, according to the records now on file in the Department of Health of vital statistics," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health, today.

"A careful investigation of this type of death indicates that perhaps many of these lives could have been saved had someone been nearby who could have rendered first aid to the unfortunate.

times appear to perform miracles provided it is immediately and scientifically applied. All swimmers should be thoroughly grounded in this practice merely as a matter of routine. One can never tell, how soon this knowledge may be invoked to save a life.

"Following are the fundamental rules. Study them, and better still, practice them upon live subjects. No swimmer can really be classified as an expert who lacks knowledge:

"1. If the mouth of the victim is tight shut, leave it alone; if open, remove with your fingers any obstruction to breathing, such as false teeth, tobacco or gum; 2. Place the patient face downward, stretched at full length on any flat surface. Turn his head to one side; 3. Bend one arm and place the hand under the patient's cheek to keep his face from the ground or floor. Stretch the other arm beyond his head; 4. Straddle the patient below the hips, facing his head, both knees on the ground; 5. Place both hands over the lower ribs just above the waist line about four inches apart. One hand on each side of the backbone. Thumbs and fingers together. Keep your arms straight, not bent; 6. Move the weight of your body slowly forward, arms rigid, bringing the weight upon the hands, pressing forward, not directly down, thus 'squeezing out' the patient's lungs as if squeezing a sponge; 7. Hold the pressure while repeating the words four hundred, five hundred, six hundred, then quickly release the pressure, snapping your hands off the patient sideways. The sudden release of pressure thus permits the lungs to expand and draw in air; 8. Swing your body slowly back to first position, release the back muscles a moment then apply pressure again; 10. Repeat this action and continue to repeat it. Work until help comes or until breathing is restored. Under no circumstances give up for at least two hours.

"Be prepared in this way to save a life if the emergency should arise."

Belgian Has Fought Topnotchers In U.S.

Leo Mozdy Who Beat Grande At Erie To Meet Rugged Johnny Martin; Romeo's Antagonist Not Yet Named; Two Four Round Bouts Between Sluggers; With Two Topnotchers In Main Card And Favorites In Other Bouts Big Crowd Is Expected To See Contests.

By ED. FRITZ.
Patrons of Jolly Bowl who have been witnessing some conscientious boxing between the better class of pugilists should witness an extraordinary set Monday night when Willie Michel, featherweight champion of Belgium fights the sailor, Ray Kinsky in a bout scheduled for 10 rounds. On paper the bout shapes up as one of the best ever arranged for Jolly Bowl. It cost the promoter, Billy Jolly a pretty penny to land the title plum but he has signed contracts in his desk and a packed house will probably be his reward.

The Belgian has been fighting since 1925 and is known in every European city where boxing has taken root. He got his start in Belgium, has milled in France and England and in his seven bouts in the United States has fought twice in Madison Square Garden, New York twice in Chicago rings and has met topnotch opponents. He packs a good "kick" and when he met Earl Mastro, conqueror of many topnotchers he surprised the man puffed by flooring Mastro.

Since January he has fought Harry Forbes at St. Louis; Dave Abad, at Cleveland; Earl Mastro, at Chicago; Al Greenfield, at Chicago; Midget Mike O'Dowd, at Toledo; Al Tripoli in New York and the Seminole Indian, Pete Nebo in New York. He's a big number among the foreign featherweights, keeps fighting all the time, according to those who have seen him and pitted against a fighter of the Kosky type should do his share to please the fans.

Home Since June
After fighting the Indian in New York, the Belgian sailed across the ocean to visit his parents and hearing that he had returned to New York City, negotiations were started with Eddie Mead, boxing agent and Gus Wilson, trainer of the once famous Georges Carpentier who puts the Belgian on edge. Mead and Wilson accepted the fight and Tom Walsh, pilot of the California sailor lost no time in signing for the fight.

Kinsky has fought here. The fans seen him punch Jackie Dugan around the ring and there heard a poor decision given. The sailor had not said a word about the decision and his only hope was that he had pleased the fans. He offered to fight Tony Herrera or any other featherweight or junior lightweight who could be secured. Since his bout here he has won three battles. He's a "peppy" puncher, keeps wading all the time and believes he can beat anybody.

Promoter Jolly himself has caught the fever and has had extra cards printed for Monday night's show. The bowl has not been playing to capacity crowds which is something of a surprise as no one will say that the bouts have not been good. In fact they have been better than one generally can expect and Jolly has tried to keep the price within the range of the workman. Only large crowds can make fighting between well known opponents profitable.

Mozdy Is Coming
Leo Mozdy, Erie flyweight favorite will take on a rugged chap in Johnny Martin of Columbus. Mozdy outpointed Frisco Grande at Erie and has shown vast improvement lately. Martin fought three draws with Freddie Edwards who gave Mozdy a great fight at Erie. Efforts to book Edwards failed as he is scheduled to fight in New York September 17.

De Carbo Making Good Impression

New Castle Lad Promises To Break Into Lineup At Duquesne

By SEBASTIAN C. ISABELLA.
Special Correspondent for The News.

BLUFF FIELD, PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 12.—After a light drill Monday, Head Coach Elmer Layden put the Duquesne University football squad through a strenuous scrimmage Tuesday afternoon.

Only ten days remain before the initial game of the Duquesne schedule, Edinboro State college will be the guests on the afternoon of the 21st. Not much is known of the strength of the Edinboro team.

Head Coach Layden again wields the mighty arm with the ax. The squad will be divided into 44 griders before the beginning of the first game of the first game. Much timber awaits the ax. Seventy-five players are still on the squad.

Nick DeCarbo of New Castle played a remarkable offensive and defensive game at guard during scrimmage. DeCarbo displayed the stellar form that made him well known in New Castle. Barring accidents, Head Coach Layden may use young DeCarbo in more than one game this season.

Glenn Thomas, center; George Mitchell, guard; Bill Howley, guard; and Harold Harris, end, all from New Castle, also played a bang-up game. Earl Turk has been absent from practice because of an injury sustained in a railroad meet Saturday.

George Chacko, former grid captain of the Chancellors team, New Castle defeated 9-6 for the championship of the W. P. I. A. L., making a high bid for one of the halfback posts. Chacko is a great broken field runner and will no doubt prove an important cog in Layden's machine.

The News team hopes to top the Tin Mill tonight and thus go higher in the league race.

Italians Have One Leg Up On Championship By Virtue Of 13 To 0 Setback

SHIEK TO HURL FOR ITALIANS

By CHARLES LANDOLT.

This evening at 6 o'clock sharp at Centennial field the second game of the Lawrence County league championship series between the Italian A. and the P. R. R. will take place. The Italians got off to a good start in the first game by walloping three Pennsy pitchers for a 13-0 victory in six innings. According to the Seventh warders, tonight will be a different tale. The Pennsy crew states that they had a pitched up lineup and were not in the peak as were the second half winners who are favored to take the series without much difficulty.

The Seventh warders feel the other way about the situation and it looks like a good ball game at Centennial ball orchard.

Manager Alex Black of the Italians stated that his pitcher will be Shiek who by the way was the younger who held the Massillon Agathos title on their first visit to this city the earlier part of the season and who later defeated the Ohioans 7-6.

The Railroaders will probably use Coates on the mound to oppose Shiek. Both are rated highly as good pitchers. Whether Huff will play is not known. If Hutmie is eligible to play he will likely pitch for the Pennsy team.

TWO GAMES IN MUSHBALL LOOP

Two games are to be played tonight in the New Castle Mushball league. The News team will battle the Tin Mill at Colonial Field. The Lehigh team will tangle with the Haney Furniture team at the Lehigh Field. Both games will start promptly at 6:30 o'clock. All players are asked to report at the field not later than 6:15 o'clock.

GERMAN CITY STARTS GREAT GOETHE MUSEUM
(International News Service)
FRANKFURT ON MAIN, Sept. 12.—The city council, which recently appropriated 100,000 marks toward the creation of a great Goethe Museum, has now designated for that purpose two houses on the Grosser Hirsengraben, near the house in which Goethe was born. At present only a small part of the vast collection dealing with the great writer's life and works can be shown for lack of space.

Greater Than Firpo?

Greater than Firpo?
That's a tough question to answer, particularly at this stage of the game. The Lawrence County league championship series between the Italian A. and the P. R. R. will take place.

Vittorio Maria Campolo, aptly dubbed the Big Horse of the Argentine, towers 6 feet 7 inches skyward, and hefts close to 230 pounds. A formidable fighting man. Following his sensational knockout of Tom Heene in nine hectic rounds (beating Champion Gene Tunney's record by two sessions), Vittorio Maria has usurped the sports page headlines. He is undoubtedly the most discussed heavyweight in the ring today.

Campolo is close to 28 years old, and is of Italian-South American parentage. Despite five years of ring service, he has fought only twelve professional bouts, with about six again as a Simon pure. Vittorio has flattened most of his opponents, when Monte Munn, the tall Nebraska legislator, knocked him over in two rounds. Far from being discouraged, the "Big Horse" carried on, and shortly after toppled big Roberto Roberti, who had made quite a record for himself in New York. This last victory resulted in the Argentine being called to the pugilistic big time.

Heene, fighting for his pugilistic life, fought savagely and courageously. For seven rounds the thing was fairly even. Then Brave Tom began to fade. Campolo's terrific right hand drives to the body had written Heene's ring obituary. The ninth and last round, when Campolo sensed Tom was ripe for the kill, saw, perhaps, the wildest flurry of punching in ring history. The boys are still talking about it.

On yes, this Big Boy of the Argentine can fight. Don't make any mistake about that. And maybe he is a Greater Firpo. But perhaps before deciding this question, it might be well to wait and see how he fares against Phil Scott, the English contender, in their bout.

Steffen Seeks Speedy Players For Tech Team
Speed To Be Biggest Asset To Carnegie Tech Football Team This Fall
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—The first week of football team activities at Carnegie Tech was restricted to calisthenics, running, group competitive contests requiring a great deal of running and gymnastics, and scrimmages, especially for the linemen. Coach Steffen is not only a firm believer in plenty of speed-developing exercises, but he is also a past master in evolving clever competitive stunts which tend to make the tough grind interesting and seem more like a child's play than hard work to the boys. This spirit shown by the candidates, from the older boys down to those out for varsity berths for the first time, is marvelous. Everyone seems to realize that with a squad of only 32 men available, it behooves every candidate to put forth his very best efforts if the resultant team is to be anywhere near the calibre of last year's powerful organization.

Up to this time the coaches have spent very little time on any one individual, and to all intents and purposes are as much at sea as any outsider as to the probable lineup of the varsity. The loss of six regulars from the team of last season offers enough open places for which the candidates can compete. However, Coach Steffen and Waddell have decided it plain at the very outset that no regular from last season is sure of his position. He must go out and win the berth all over again. If another man shows more ability and deserves the job, no sentiment will be shown in the selection of the incumbent. This attitude is characteristic of Coach Steffen, and its effect on the squad is to make every man eager to put his best foot forward.

Officials Will Be Reorganized
Alec Samuels, president of the Marching Valley Officials Association, announced today that plans are under way to increase the membership this year and that a meeting would be held in the very near future.

The association for the past few years has been supplying the local district with good basketball and football officials. The work of the various men sent out from the local headquarters has been very satisfactory, according to reports received by Samuels. Charles "Bugs" Walther is vice president of the association and Samuels is acting secretary and treasurer at present. This job was formerly held by Walter Kirker, former physical director at the "Y," who is now in Harrisburg, Pa.

Grover To Have Clever Ends This Year Is Indicated

Coach Charles Berry Works Hard To Develop Two Good Sets Of Ends

GROVE CITY, Pa., Sept. 12.—Grove City should be well supplied with ends this year if the work of the last few days can be taken to mean anything. Berry has in Rankin, Shiring, Gregory and Reeves, four experienced wingmen. Besides these, four several of the new players have been showing well at the terminal position.

Berry, once an All-American and at Lafayette, seems to have transformed a good deal of his skill to his squad this year. In Rankin, this year's captain, the Grove City mentor has a capable performer on both the offense and defense with the other three veteran players not far behind in general ability.

Practice this week at the college field has consisted largely of signal drill. Tossing and receiving passes occupied a large part of the time the first two days, while yesterday the backs were busy running back punts, etc. The Crimson coach continues to shift his combinations with no one sure of his position.

Long scrimmage sessions are scheduled for today and tomorrow with an eye towards finding the twenty-five or thirty men that will be carried during the regular season. The new backfield of Waleski, Munson, Thomas and Kummer has seen a lot of action together so far, and are considered by most fans to be the quartette likely to make up the first string backfield.

BETTING ODDS FAVOR MACKS

Quote Athletics As 11 To 10 Favorites Over Chicago Cubs For Series Games

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The first betting odds on the impending World Series were quoted Wednesday by W. L. Darnell and company, Broadway betting commission. They quoted the Philadelphia Athletics as 11 to 10 favorite over the Chicago Cubs for the series. Even money is quoted on the opening game.

HARTFORD PLUMBING JOB COST $319,000
(International News Service)
HARTFORD, Sept. 12.—One plumbing job in the city of Hartford cost $319,000. It was the job done in the new general office building of the Aetna Insurance company here. Records indicate that the permit for the plumbing was largest in the city's history.

Injuries Hit Squad At New Wilmington
Eight of Coach "Dike" Beede's Westminister college griders are the sidelines as a result of scrimmage sessions yesterday and Tuesday. The old jinx, injury, took a heavy toll on Tuesday when six men were rushed to doctors to be sewed up or to have ligaments and bones adjusted after Joseph Pipoly, end; Chaster Campbell, end; Dave Morrison, guard; Harvey Seifert, center; Norman Holzapfel, quarterback; William Frack, halfback; James Perrin, fullback and Homer Dishong, tackle. Pipoly, Dishong and Perrin will not be in shape to scrimmage until some time next week at the earliest but the other men should be ready by tomorrow and Saturday.

Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald negotiated with the Pennsylvania railroad today for a special car to carry the team to New York on Friday, September 27 for the opening game with Fordham. The U. P. team will leave New Castle Friday in a chair car arriving in New York Friday evening. The squad will return by sleeper Saturday night September 28. Headquarters in New York will be established at Hotel Wentworth on 40th street.

Merriman, Turtle Creek; Adrian Dibble, Verona and Harry Michaels, Turtle Creek, will be the backfield. Bert Holzapfel, Perrin, Campbell, Tate, O'Neill and Clumik are all fighting hard for positions and may change the lineup.

Dishong, Cleland and Armour are about on a par for the tackle position vacated by Joe Russo last year's captain. On the ends, Brownlee and Tweedy look good but when Pipoly recovers from Tuesday's injury he will make a strong bid for the terminal posts. Clumik, Frack, O'Neill and Yound, some of whom are backs are also available as ends. Fuller and Sweet look like the guards but Sweet has been used as tackle with Dishong, Cleland or Cebula on the guard position.

As matters stand it looks as if Ben Padden, Bentville; Samuel

Babe Ruth Is Still Greatest Of Them All

Old Bambino May Slam Out 50 Home Runs This Year; Got Away To Bad Start

It Is Rumored That George Herman Has Eye On $100,000 Contract

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service, Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—In view of the fact that the boy friend, Mr. B. Ruth, is having some trouble today in deciding how much less than $100,000 he will be willing to accept next year, it occurs to me that I can be helpful by mentioning that Dazzy Vance, Paul Waner and Lou Gehrig are said to be on the market at the end of the season.

This report is cited only because I wish to aid Mr. Ruth in reaching a decision. The three men named got all they could out of baseball last spring and baseball has been trying to get something out of them ever since.

Vance got $25,000 from the Dodgers and has been worth somewhat in excess of $2,500. Waner indulged himself in a family strike in company with brother Lloyd, both finally signing at a compromise figure. Paul got more than his brother and proceeded to play much less baseball. Gehrig got $25,000 and on occasions has played better at Columbia University. Baseball, therefore, is in no mood to meet demands, no matter who makes them.

Has Good Year
To do Mr. Ruth justice, it must be admitted that the size of his pay check has had no visible effect on his ball playing. He hasn't had even the suggestion of a bad year since 1925, and, in some respects, the present year is his greatest.

Also, it may be said that Mr. Ruth never has set $100,000 as his arguing point for 1930. He merely said that he would like to get $100,000, thereby distinguishing himself from those who wouldn't like to get it. He probably will wind up by accepting $10,000 more than the Yankees originally were willing to pay him, which won't be too much, whatever it is.

May Hit 50
Mr. Ruth is an old man now and it won't be long before kind hands bear him tenderly away from the scene. But, as he goes, the structure of a marvelous career is rearing itself higher and higher by the day. This gent is the greatest of them all and he is proving it more than ever this year by striking everybody in the home run derby to five weeks' start and then leading them home in a gallop. Continuing his current pace Mr. Ruth will hit at least fifty home runs this year, a total that compares favorably with his 54 of 1920, his 59 of a year or so later and his 60 of 1927.

These records were made when Mr. Ruth was younger and faster and slithered from any of its splendid qualities. Lincoln owners are often men who can, and do, provide the best professional care for their cars. Sometimes such well-kept cars are available at very attractive prices from Lincoln dealers. ## League Leaders Need Four Games

Both Cubs And Athletics Can Cinch Pennants By Win-

PIRATES SOCKED TWICE BY GIANTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Four more victories and the Athletics are in.
The same goes for the Cubs. They both have something over 15 games yet to play.

The man, woman or child who can still detect a stray gleam of hope for the Yankees or Pirates should step right up and claim the vaudeville billing and cigarette testimonials that would be theirs as world's champion optimist.

Philadelphia reached the four-game stage when they slipped the White Sox a 7 to 4 defeat while the Yanks were taking a licking from St. Louis.
The A's and Sox scored all their runs in the first inning.

Crowder shut out the champions 5 to 0, the second time he has blanked them this season. He allowed but five hits.

Despite a seven-run rally in the seventh inning by the Tigers, the Red Sox went on to score an 8 to 7 ten-inning victory.

Washington scored three in the eighth to trim Cleveland, 2 to 1.

Cubs Nearly In.
Chicago moved nearer the National flag by humbling Philadelphia 5 to 2 while the Pirates were losing twice to the Giants. Nehf did the flinging for the Cubs. Lefty O'Doul went to bat four times without hitting safely.
Hack Wilson and Chuck Klein both hit homers to remain deadlocked for the league lead.

Brooklyn, though beaten by the Reds, 4 to 2, left the field cheered.
For in Rookie Newsome from Macon they seem to have uncovered a real pitching find. Given decent support he might have won over the mighty Red Lucas.

St. Louis defeated the Braves twice, 11 to 4 and 7 to 1. Grabowski, recruit hurler, won the first game.

Giants hopes for second place took a decided rise as they blasted Pittsburgh 2 to 1 and 10 to 5. The Bucs now top the third place Giants by four and one-half games.

Grid Camp Briefs

(International News Service)
FARMINGDALE, N. Y., Sept. 12.— Further drill in the fundamentals with special attention being paid to the art of blocking was scheduled for New York University's football squad here today. Coach Meehan has been free in his praise of Quarterback Gaudet and End Jones, a Sophomore.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Columbia's football squad is fast reaching its full strength. The rival of Art Hill, Gordon Spencer and Butch Allen runs to number of men working out daily to thirty-four. Coach Crowley has selected a first string eleven and few changes are expected.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 12.— Taking advantage of the cool weather Coach Biff Jones is driving his Army gridiron hopefuls at top speed.
Jones today will put his men through a session on the tackling, dummies and a dummy scrimmage.

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 12.—Dart-mouth's gridiron squad will soon be ready for scrimmage. The squad has been divided into three groups, ends, backs and linemen. The ends are spending most of their time taking out tackles while the backs gallop over the low hurdles.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Sept. 12.—Pre-season scrimmage has cost the University of Pennsylvania the services of two more players, Gene Kuen and Billy Beaumont, veteran guards. They will be missing from today's workout when the Red and Blue squad is scheduled to go through another rough session.

WINNER, Pa., Sept. 12.—Coach
Jock Sutherland's Pitt Panthers staged their most satisfactory scrimmage of the season at Camp Hamilton here yesterday, clicking off their plays with finish and perfection. A new combination and prospective varsity was tried and the timing of plays resulting was exceptionally good. The linemen and backs swept clean interference for the ball carriers, and the Freshmen opposition went down with ease.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—The most favorable weather of the training period for football practice put additional pep into Carnegie Tech's 33 candidates for the Plaid eleven yesterday and Coaches Bob Waddell and Wally Steffen sent the men through a spirited workout in the Skibo Bowl.
The practice centered chiefly on straight line formations and Sophomore linemen came in for most of the attention. The new men are "under fire" now and the veterans are being used sparingly.

Tin Mill, allowing eight hits and keeping them scattered. Roberts on

Unearth Relics Of Old Indian Culture

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Relics of a new Indian culture never before encountered in Mississippi valley explorations have been carefully unearthed and placed together by Prof.
Pay Cooper, anthropologist of the University of Chicago, after five years of archaeological work along the ancient cemeteries of the mound builders in Illinois.

Remains of an old civilization we have found on the bluffs about Quincy, Ill., where we have been making explorations this summer, puzzle us greatly," Prof. Cole explains. "They are unlike anything found in this state before, or in Ohio, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania or Michigan, where explorations have been made during the last five years."

Discovery of a crypt or chapel, or what might be called a ceremonial room is related by Prof. Cole.
"We are now digging about this chamber and expect to have it completely uncovered in a few weeks. All about it are remains of an ancient culture that is unknown to mound builder archaeologists. These deposits represent nothing we have found before."

Phalanx Team Suffers Second Straight Defeat In Mush-ball League Play

The Bankers hung a 11 to 3 defeat on the Phalanx team in a New Castle Mushball League game, played at Lehigh field on Wednesday night.
The Phalanx hit Krug hard, but failed to take advantage of their opportunities to score. The Bankers found Bruce for thirteen hits.

Paul Laurell led the Bankers at bat with a pair of home run drives, while the other half of the brother act Laurell had three safe bingles. Chris Clarke and Bob Clarke also hit timely for the Bankers.

McLure was the best hitter for the Phalanx with three hits, while Alford had a pair of swats. The Bankers scored in every inning with the exception of the third. It was two straight

August Recess At End, Commission Takes Up Study Again Of Proposed Rail Mergers

B. & O. Has Applied For Right To Acquire B. & P. Lines

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Railroad consolidation, particularly among eastern roads, was taken up again today by the Interstate Commerce Commission and is expected to engage the attention of the commission during the next few months.

The commission following its August recess has resumed its deliberations and is reported to be giving much consideration to the tentative consolidation plan prepared by Commissioner Porter. The details of the plan have been carefully guarded and action on a number of important amendments probably will be deferred until after the commission has promulgated its own general plan. Among the pending plans are those of the Chesapeake and Ohio, Baltimore and Ohio and the Washington and Annapolis.

Another merger plan involving the linking of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads into a system to be known as the Great Northern Pacific, has been pending before the commission since July, 1927 and there has been no linking of the commission's attitude toward the proposal.

The Baltimore and Ohio has also applied for authority to acquire control of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh and the Buffalo and Susquehanna and these applications have served to complicate the merger situation.

The Pittsburgh and West Virginia, controlled by the Tappin Brothers of Cleveland, are trying to get the Wheeling and Lake Erie, as are the Van Sweringen-owned Nickel Plate and the Wabash. The holdings of the New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Nickel Plate have been trusted pending a final decision of the commission as the Wheeling's place in the merger map.

Control of the Western Maryland also is being sought by a number of important eastern roads. The Baltimore and Ohio which owns control of the Western Maryland has been controlled by the commission under the Clayton anti-trust act for "illegally" holding this control. The Baltimore and Ohio has proposed transferring the stock until the commission can decide the Western Maryland's proper allocation.

While the commission's ideas on the subject of consolidation are still undisclosed, the best opinion seems to be that the status of the Pennsylvania and the N. Y. C. presents insuperable obstacles to more than four major systems in the east. L. H. Loree, president of the Lehigh Valley is sponsoring a fifth trunk line system but apparently is making little headway with it.

St. Mary's Cemetery Is Being Improved

Work Under Way On Improvement Under Direction Of Parish

Members of St. Mary's parish are deeply interested in the present improvement of St. Mary's cemetery, west of the city which is now underway and which will place the cemetery in the best of condition that it has been in years.

Old roads to the cemetery are being resurfaced and placed in the best of condition and are being made possible at all seasons of the year and new roads will be made where necessary.

All other necessary repairs and changes for the betterment of the cemetery are also being made at this time.

This work is being done at a cost of several thousand dollars which money was raised by a recent campaign for funds among the lot owners in the cemetery and members of St. Mary's parish.

As a result of this extensive improvement work being done now St. Mary's cemetery will be greatly improved in appearance and accessibility.

The entire parish is much pleased with the work being done.

Monthly Meeting Of Americanization Welfare Society

The September meeting of the New Castle Americanization society was held in the Scotia street neighborhood house with the president, Thomas W. Phillips, presiding. The welfare worker, Miss Christine Butler gave a report of the month of August. She reported that 57 calls had been made and 429 books exchanged in the library. 18 books were received from Mrs. Fullerton from the Third United Presbyterian church. The Girl Reserves will meet next Wednesday evening after school to resume their work. Sewing classes and boys' classes will begin in the near future. The board decided to conduct night school, beginning in October. Plans were made for a rummage in November.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Should change the heading of this column today to "Blimping Round" instead of roaming. Spent part of Wednesday afternoon touring the clouds in the Goodyear blimp "Defender", which you probably saw soaring lazily over the city all afternoon and early evening. It was a part of Roy Bradford's air show out at Bradford field and because a dirigible was one form of air travel I had never enjoyed, I went up.

If it hadn't been for the roar of the twin motors just in back of where I sat the idea of flying would have been far removed. Fancy yourself sitting in a chair car on one of the crack trains, and you have an idea of the comfort of the blimp cabin. Nice easy chairs, well upholstered with deep arms that hold you in as snug as can be.

As between plane riding and blimp riding, the blimp seems to be the easier. The big gas bag seems to iron out the air bumps and holes and there is not that sudden dropping one experiences when a plane hits an air pocket. Neither is there any sharp turning on a blimp. The difference could be about the same as turning a corner on a bicycle and turning the same corner in a five-ton truck.

Getting into the cabin is a matter of walking up a short ladder into the cabin. In a moment or so the engines began to roar, the blimp was reversed and the ground crew let go the ropes. Slowly, easily, we began to rise until we were 75 or 100 feet off the ground. Then Pilot Boettner nosed her up for altitude.

Ever ride a roller coaster? The angle at which you sit going up the steep grades is the same. Down below the buildings get smaller, the fields begin to shrink, until finally the pilot straightens the ship out and we begin to head for the city.

There is a sense of security about the blimp that is not always present in a plane, particularly an open cockpit plane. The speed of the blimp is nothing like the plane, which may have something to do with the feeling of security. We never got over 40 miles an hour, and for a while hung around 25 to 30. Only by looking down over the sea could one believe that the ship was moving.

Six passengers were aboard. Mr. and Mrs. William Braatz, Mrs. John Watson of Pittsburgh, Glenn Lettmer and Coy Cole of New Castle and the conductor of this column. Being an insurance man, Cole kept thinking of the possibilities of accident. First he picked out a hospital down below, and then a little later looked out and saw a cemetery. A big help, if you get what I mean.

The two women aboard were thrilled pink over the ride. No nervousness, no fright, just enjoyment, and they were sorry when the ship got back to the landing field.

The pilot's cabin is a tricky looking arrangement. All glassed in, and the boys certainly have a great lookout on life from that front seat. The instrument board has something like 25 gadgets on it for various controlling factors, with half a dozen plugs strung along.

If you have never been off the ground, take your first ride in a blimp. Then try the planes. For a real thrill the open cockpit monoplane on a windy day has the call, but for a nice pleasant ride on a day like Wednesday the blimp has it. The difference is the difference between a sport model roadster and a family sedan.

Residents of the city got plenty of opportunity to view the new blimp, for it flew very low over the city. Bringing it here was a smart idea on the part of Roy Bradford and was just another indication of his endeavor to give New Castle some real air treats.

Passing over the municipal golf course yesterday afternoon, we were low enough to see the players. Bert Sullivan, or it looked like him, was just about to putt. As the blimp roared over he pulled his head and missed the putt. I still imagine I can hear what he said.

Sullivan, if you do not know it, has this game of golf all wrapped up. For many years he scoffed at the idea; now he is a dyed-in-the-wool golfer. Looking for Bill Bearer to take it up any day.

It won't be long now. Pete Lightner has promised the New Castle-Walpole road for traffic in a very short time and that detour around Maitland Lane will be out. And what a blessing that will be.

Youths Await Gallows Death

Two Elizabeth New Jersey Youths Will Pay Penalty In West Virginia Tomorrow

BELIEVE ONE OF YOUTHS INNOCENT

(International News Service) MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Sept. 12.—Unless executive clemency is extended before tomorrow evening at 9 o'clock Millard F. Morrison, 24, and Walter E. Willmot, 22, both of Elizabeth, N. J., will mount the gallows together and pay the supreme penalty for murdering Frank Bowen at Charlestown, W. Va., several months ago. Although prison officials believed that a confession from one of the youths would save the other, neither showed any inclination today to confess.

Awalt Confession. "If Morrison could talk he could save me," Willmot told reporters today as he watched Morrison writing letters in an effort to save himself. Willmot has pleaded with Morrison to talk but the latter pays little attention. Morrison's last hope is pinned on a story which he claims Mrs. Nona Daniels, of Scarbro, W. Va., will tell. Mrs. Daniels, according to Morrison, was in the courtroom during his trial and charges she heard a man tell the prosecutor that if he was placed on the jury he would see that Morrison was speedily convicted. The woman says she can identify the juror. "I thought the governor would do something," Morrison said, "but it don't look like it now." The pair were examined yesterday by Dr. L. V. Gularic, state alienist. Willmot's 14 year old bride, Violet, his sister, brother-in-law and a girl friend arrived today from New Jersey to visit them.

If I Were You

Harry T. Amberson, well known artist of the east side, can make poetry as well as paint pictures. Here is his latest "poem":

It seems to me we're all made wrong There's hardly one in this vast throng That does the thing the other would do If you were I and I were you.

I wouldn't do that if I were you You often hear some person say Always wrong the way you do The other way is sure to pay.

If I were you and you were I Things then you see reversed would be It is too bad I heave a sigh That I am not you and you not me.

If you were me and I were you Things just the same I think would be You would do the things that I do too Because I would be you and you'd be me.

If I could do the things you do I wouldn't be me I'd be just you We're just what fate has forced us to be That's why I'm not you and you're not me.

I wish sometimes I could do the other way That other fellow certainly makes it pay But you wouldn't do what you now do If you were me and I were you.

You cannot do the things I do And to be you I cannot be So don't tell me while you are you What I should do unless you're me.

—H. T. Amberson.

Senate Committee On Naval Affairs Is Meeting Today

Seek To Determine Whether Ship Builders Tried To Break Down Disarmament Parley

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The Senate Naval Affairs committee today launched its inquiry to determine whether American shipbuilding concerns attempted to break down the tri-power naval disarmament conference at Geneva in 1927.

The committee met behind closed doors to perfect plans for conducting an investigation specifically into the activities of William B. Shearer, admittedly employed by three American shipbuilding companies as an "observer" at the conference. Shearer will be called for testimony, along with a number of officials of the organization which employed him and naval officials reported to have been associated with him at Geneva during the conference.

Today the committee will determine whether it will conduct the probe or appoint a sub-committee to do it. Under the Senate resolution, be called for testimony, along with a number of officials of the organization which employed him and naval officials reported to have been associated with him at Geneva during the conference.
